

HOSPITAL'S MEDICAL MISTAKES REVEALED

BY NICK HUMPHREYS

THERE have been 110 serious incidents and three 'never events' at the NHS trust that runs Cannock Chase Hospital in the past year.

They include 29 confidential breaches, 13 delays in diagnosis or treatment, five missed diagnoses and 20 unexpected deaths at the Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals NHS Trust between April 2015 and April 2016.

Three 'never events' – serious and preventable breaches of patient safety, down to safety recommendations being ignored or not followed – saw a swab left inside a patient, a patient having their chest drained on the wrong side of their body and an ophthalmology patient being given an injection in the wrong eye.

Information revealed in the health trust's latest quality report showed that there were 11 cases of C.Diff, nine of unspecified infection, six of sub optimal care, and three drug errors.

There were single cases of a 12-hour breach, alleged child abuse, outpatient appointment delay, radiation treatment given without consent and unexpected injury.

There were also 278 reportable incidents, which included 238 pressure ulcers, seven of maternity and 33 slips, trips or falls.

Changes

And as of April this year, there were four investigations overdue.

The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust also runs Wolverhampton's New Cross Hospital.

Chief nursing officer Cheryl Etches attributed the errors to human error and changes in systems or procedures.

She said: "The trust treats all these incidents and never events very seriously. We are clear that never events should not happen. The report is evidence of the sound reporting culture that exists at RWT, where staff have the confidence to report matters which enable us to fully investigate why these things happen."

"They could be down to any one of a range of factors, such as human error or a need to change systems or procedures."

"In all of the cases, the patients and their families are fully informed and we share all outcomes with them. Patient satisfaction surveys and our Friends and Family scores show the large majority of them are totally satisfied with the care they receive."

● The Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals NHS Trust has put keeping current staff and recruiting Filipino nurses at the top of its priorities. A report prepared in an overview of the trust's year says: "Our plans for 2016-17 are to continue to secure offers made during our overseas recruitment to the Philippines. We have acknowledged that a recruitment strategy alone would not be sufficient to support the trust so are also looking at how we can retain our staff."

END OF ESTATE'S SEWAGE BATTLE NOW IN SIGHT

Andrew and Charlotte Dodd, Pru Jethwa, parish councillor Phil Appleton with Nathan and Tammie Brady and son Keegan

A TWO-YEAR nightmare for residents who have endured problems with sewage and flooding on a new estate could soon be over.

Homeowners on the Hatherton Place development in Cheslyn Hay have experienced horrendous smells coming into their homes, as well as unsafe roads and pavements since they moved in during 2014.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson has described the situation as 'the most disgraceful mess and lack of regard for customers and families I have ever seen' and urged South Staffordshire Council to consider enforcement action against developer Morris Homes. But after a lengthy battle, the firm's boss issued an apology to residents and promised that work would be carried out to rectify the problems with the drainage system.

For two years, bowser tankers have visited the site on almost a daily basis to empty a cesspit because the estate is not linked to the main sewer.

Residents have had the smell of sewage come through pipes and into their homes.

During the recent heavy rainfall raw sewage flooded the roads and got into at least one resident's garage and prevented another resident from getting into their home because of a large flood of waste. Another resident has blocked the air hole bricks of their home to keep out the smell of sewage.

Similarly the roads and pavements have not been completed, despite all homes being occupied. Drain covers have been concreted over or covered in tarmac and there are lumps of tarmac on the road surface and pavements. One drain cover dangerously doesn't cover the entirety of the hole. Railway worker Nathan Brady, aged 39, lives in Salters Meadow with his wife Tammie, 35, and son Keegan, four. He said: "It has been a nightmare. Our garden has flooded, our bathroom has flooded, the road surface is dangerous. We are disgusted." Teacher Andrew Dodd, 29, said: "We have been left in fear of our health."

And fellow teacher Emma Noon, 26, said: "With the torrential rain it just made the situation horrendous."

Dominic Harman, Morris Homes regional managing director, said: "We are truly sorry about the disruption the ongoing work has caused to residents at Hatherton Place and we can assure homeowners that we are working hard to put things right."

There have been delays in obtaining the relevant technical approvals needed to upgrade the development's drainage system and for that – and the subsequent problems caused – we can only apologise. We do now have the relevant approvals in place."

Tesco is to scrap 24-hour opening

TESCO is scrapping 24-hour shopping at its branch in Heath Hayes.

The move leaves overnight workers at the supermarket in Hayes Way with an uncertain future. It is one of 20 Tesco stores throughout the country that will have its 24-hour opening hours scaled back. The new hours will be 6am to midnight.

A Tesco spokesman said the changes were to ensure the 'stores were the best they could be during the busiest times', adding that low visiting numbers overnight was a factor. Tesco has also said 24-hour opening will cease at its store in Brownhills.

ENERGY

Power station linked with gas turbine bid

THE owners of the now closed Rugeley Power Station are looking at turning the site into a gas turbine.

Energy Secretary Amber Rudd and her department are helping with the 'extremely complex' planning permission for the site, which officially shut down this month.

Engie, which owns and operates the site, has maintained that the gas turbine is just one option for the site, but it is understood that the firm is in discussions to get the ball rolling.

COURTS

Bathroom fitter fined over skips

A BATHROOM fitter who illegally disposed of material in skips at his home has been fined for breaching planning rules.

Scott Brown, of Shaws Lane, Great Wyrley, was found guilty of planning breaches and ordered to pay a £200 fine, £385 costs and a £20 victim surcharge.

Stafford Crown Court heard that he failed to complete a planning contravention notice when asked by South Staffordshire Council after enforcement officers suspected he was breaking the law.

Brown did not have consent for the large number of skips that were being delivered to and removed from the property.

And now a 'closer' tribute to Phil Collins

And Finally – brand new show

A PHIL COLLINS tribute show is coming to Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre tomorrow as part of a 60-date theatres tour.

'And Finally . . . Phil Collins' features an 11-piece band who are now in their eighth year together.

They are promising 'a brand new show that has been truly enhanced with new lighting, stage sets and world-class musicians to get even closer to that immense Phil Collins production to ensure an exciting spectacle is totally guaranteed'.

A spokesman for the band said: "As always the 'two drummer' line-up remains an integral part of the act but in 2016 the addition of a dedicated percussionist performing the Louis Conte role has moved the 'And Finally' experience both musically and visually to a whole different league.

"They faithfully re-create all the classic hits from the Phil Collins and Genesis timeless back catalogue.

"Just when you thought it couldn't get any better, it did so why not come and check out this sensational brand new show for yourself."

The show comes from the creators of

'Talon – The Best of Eagles' and is billed as 'the official UK No 1 tribute to Phil Collins'.

Other tribute concerts at the Prince of Wales include 'The Billy Fury Years' on July 9 which will see Michael King performing a tribute to the rocker, alongside music by several more 1960s acts, and 'The Definitive Elvis Experience' on February 24, 2017 when Ben Thompson performs songs from throughout Presley's career, from his early days to the iconic stage show of the 1970s.

'Inadequate' school put in special measures

A GREAT WYRLEY school has been placed in special measures after being rated as 'inadequate' in almost every area by education watchdogs.

Lack of direction, poorly planned lessons, not enough pupils achieving good grades and a governing body branded ineffective are among the failings listed in Ofsted's report on Great Wyrley High School.

Inspectors went into the Hall Lane school, which caters for around 850 pupils, at the end of April and observed lessons, sampled students' work, scrutinised school records, spoke to students and teachers, and listened to the views of parents.

In a damning report, Ofsted rated four out of five key areas – leadership, teaching, results and sixth form – 'inadequate'.

The fifth area – pupil development and welfare – required improvement.

The report said: "Leaders have failed to give the school a clear direction since the last inspection in 2014. As a result, the school has not improved. Leaders, including some subject leaders, do not do enough to improve the quality of teaching.

Gained

"Too many pupils in school now make inadequate progress from their starting points, particularly the most-able pupils."

It said the governing body lacked the skills to hold the school to account properly. The fact that 43 per cent of students gained five good GCSE grades, including English and maths, last year weighed heavily against the school.

They also declared progress among the most able children was 'slow', and 'very few' achieved the highest grades.

The watchdog noted behaviour among youngsters was improving and that a new interim leadership team in place since the start of January had made improvements.

Executive headteacher Nicky Crookshank said: "All staff and governors are committed to addressing the issues in the report and raising standards for all our students. We are confident that we, and all the staff, are making changes to improve the standards at Great Wyrley High School.

"One of the fundamental things in the report for us is that pupils feel safe, and they know who they can turn to if they need help."

Sales of fragrance to help heroes

Afghanistan war veteran Clive Smith promotes the new Help For Heroes fragrance, which he helped create

A WAR veteran made a special appearance at The Perfume Shop in the Bullring centre to promote the fragrance XTREME for Men.

Sapper Clive Smith, aged 30, originally from Hednesford, is an Invictus Games athlete who now lives in Walsall.

He lost both of his legs while on tour in Afghanistan in 2010 after stepping on an improvised explosive device. He is now an ambassador for the charity and has been helping to launch the new fragrance. Part of the proceeds from sales of the product will go to the Help For Heroes charity.

He said: "XTREME for Men has been launched to help raise more money for Help for Heroes.

"The Band of Brothers network within Help for Heroes approached members to work on developing the fragrance, and after I applied I was chosen to work on it. After getting injured I got involved with the charity straight away. They gave me support and helped with my rehabilitation. They supported me with my injuries and I wanted to give back to charity."

Mr Smith has worked on all aspects of the new fragrance, from choosing the secret ingredients to designing the packaging. The fragrance costs £29.99 with £6 from each sale going to Help for Heroes.

Mr Smith said he was greeted warmly by shoppers at the Birmingham retail complex, with one declaring: "I am so grateful for what you did for our country."

Campaign to set record straight on diabetes

LOCAL and national health leaders are calling on people with diabetes to help set the record straight by sharing their stories, facts and videos to let others know the truth about diabetes.

Diabetes is seen as a misunderstood condition with many myths and misconceptions, such as being a disease solely confined to people who are overweight.

With this in mind, a campaign has been launched urging those with diabetes Type 1, Type 2 and other types of the condition to speak to others.

An 'engagement session' will be held in the Esperance Room at Cannock Chase Council's offices in Becroft Road, Cannock, on Wednesday, June 29, from 2 to 3.30pm.

Dr Mo Huda, chair of Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), said: "This campaign makes local people aware of the different stories that help to fuel myths around diabetes, which can be unhelpful for patients. Generally, patients who have the condition want to know what they need to do to manage it properly, and if possible, depending on the condition, how they can combat it.

"Local healthcare professionals are here to help and can provide advice and guidance. In terms of Type 2 diabetes simple steps like making time to eat more healthily and exercise regularly can help to manage the condition."

Get involved in the campaign online by using the hashtags #actuallydiabetes and #diabetesweek or take part in a short survey at <http://tinyurl.com/staffs-diabetes-survey-2016>

Homes scheme back on agenda

PLANS to build dozens of homes in Little Haywood have resurfaced despite development chiefs rejecting the proposal.

Stafford Borough Council's planning committee refused the bid for up to 65 properties in Main Road last year.

The fact the homes would have been on green belt land as well as a lack of investment in the local area from the developer were cited as the main reasons for the decision.

But after the Moore Family Trust officially lodged an appeal, the matter will be determined by a planning inspectorate from the Department for Communities and Local Government.

The move has been confirmed on council papers which were prepared for this week's meeting of the council's planning committee.

Tablers' fun day to help charities

PENKRIDGE Fun Day on Sunday will feature a barbecue, entertainment, a bar and more than 30 side stalls.

Organised by Penkridge and District Round Table, the annual event will also include a fun run. All proceeds go to local charities and other worthy causes.

Cyclists in cash vow to support Millie Bea

A TEAM of charity bicycle riders have pledged thousands of pounds towards a life-changing operation for a two-year-old Abbots Bromley girl.

Organisers of the annual Wolverhampton to Wales saddle marathon, which takes place tomorrow, have agreed to hand over £2,000 from their adventure towards funding surgery for Millie Bea Hughes.

Millie Bea

Millie Bea has spastic diplegia cerebral palsy but it is hoped the operation will mean she can walk one day.

The condition means the youngster has restricted muscle movement and relies on a walking frame or being supported to get around.

Mother Natalie, who is a detective constable with Wolverhampton CID, and her husband Chris have so far raised almost £17,000 through fundraising initiatives including cake sales and an 11-mile fun walk dressed as Disney characters.

A Just Giving webpage has also been set up to collect money for Millie's operation, which has a target of £40,000.

Once organisers of the cycle ride, which includes West Midlands Police inspector Greg Evans as part of the team, learned of the appeal they decided to allocate funds, despite already supporting 14 other charities.

Village set for 40th carnival

THE 40th Great Wyrley Carnival takes place on Saturday at the Star Land between midday and 5.30pm.

The procession, led by the carnival float with Carnival Queen Estelle Jones, Carnival King Mason Lloyd-Jones, Carnival Princess Bethany Lloyd-Jones, and Carnival Prince Theo McGinty, will leave Hazel Lane at midday and travel around the streets of Great Wyrley.

There will be 50 charity and trade stalls, and entertainment in two arenas. Judging of the Fun Dog Show takes place from 1.30pm onwards.

This year's talent show winner Amber Perry, runner-up Jason Holmes and young winner Erin Stott will be performing in a show which concludes the entertainment at 5pm.

Student aims high with new challenge

Samrick and his mother Pardip with his West Midlands Pride of Britain award

CHAMPION charity collector Samrick Singh Bahia is not resting on his laurels after his astonishing fundraising won praise from Prime Minister David Cameron.

The 22-year-old student, who collected almost £100,000 by organising two events while under treatment for cancer, is aiming high again.

This time Samrick, from Sneyd Lane, Essington, aims to complete the Three Peaks Challenge with a dozen family members and friends – including his mother Pardip – while raising a further £3,000 on Saturday. He is also putting the finishing touches to plans for a dinner dance in Wolverhampton in October similar to those he held in 2013 and 2014 that collected almost £100,000 for Delete Blood Cancer UK, prompting Mr Cameron to give him a Point of Light Award.

The University of Worcester student also collected trophies as the West Midlands Pride of Britain winner and the highest fundraiser for his chosen charity.

He said: "I am not doing this for awards. I am pleased to receive them but that is not the point. I am doing it get more people – especially those from Asia – to sign up as stem cell donors.

"It just involves a swab of the mouth. The results are kept on a database and, if you are a match for someone who is in need of a bone marrow transplant, you go in for more procedures and could save a life."

Samrick was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukaemia (ALL) in January 2013 and discovered his skill for fundraising while undergoing nine months of intensive chemotherapy at Birmingham's QE Hospital.

Leisure centres enjoy an increase in visitors

VISITS to leisure centres in Cannock Chase have increased by more than 25,000 over the last year.

A report prepared for the district council's cabinet revealed that 942,000 people used sites across the area over the last 12 months.

These included Chase and Rugeley Leisure Centres, as well as Cannock Park Golf Course, Visitors to the two leisure centres increased to a combined total of 808,689 – up from 783,811 in the previous year.

Both memberships and concessionary card holders have increased by 10 per cent at the sites during the last year.

Cannock Park Golf Course has had a consistent year with 23,377 rounds of golf being played during 2015-16.

Inspiring Healthy Lifestyles, the organisation which provide leisure services for Cannock Chase Council, invested £145,000 in redecorations, boiler repairs and changing room refurbishments at the Cannock and Rugeley leisure centres over the last year.

There have been a number of successful events at the Museum of Cannock Chase.

Continuous

Councillor Christine Mitchell, portfolio leader for culture and sport, said: "We are now in the fourth year of our contract with Inspiring Healthy Lifestyles, and the partnership is going from strength to strength.

"Inspiring Healthy Lifestyles strive for continuous improvement in a very competitive market."

The authority will also be continuing to offer free use of leisure centres across the county for the fourth year running.

The offer allows servicemen and women to use fitness suites and swimming pools at both leisure centres at no cost.

The decision was made at a recent cabinet meeting, where the increase in visitor figures was also discussed.

Councillor Mitchell added: "I am delighted that we are able to continue to provide residents who are serving members of the Armed Forces with free use of our leisure centres."

"Increased participation in sports and physical activity is one of the council's ongoing priorities. This concession scheme will help to improve the health and wellbeing of our local serving members."

Burntwood author Caroline Baker with her new book – 'we should look at caring for people with dementia in a very positive way'

Author raises £1k for hospice

A BURNTWOOD author has generated more than £1,000 for St Giles Hospice thanks to proceeds from her new book.

Caroline Baker formerly worked at the hospice having completed a placement in 1991 and now she is director for dementia care at Barchester Healthcare.

She released her book 'Developing excellent care for people living with dementia in care homes' around six months ago.

As well as St Giles Hospice she is pledging money to Dementia South Africa.

Ms Baker said: "I wanted to donate profits from the book to St Giles because they're such an important charity."

"As well as working for them in the past I have a couple of friends whose relatives were cared for and passed away at St Giles."

"Everyone with dementia is unique and we should look at caring for people with dementia in a very positive way. People with dementia should be afforded the same care as everyone else and I'm really pleased to see that happening across the country."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Art exhibition will mark anniversary

LOCAL residents have had the opportunity to showcase their Staffordshire-inspired artwork as an annual Open Art Exhibition returns.

To mark the 1,000th anniversary of Staffordshire, the Museum of Cannock Chase asked for local artwork celebrating the county's rich history, special places, objects and people.

Lee Bellingham, museum manager, said: "The Open Art Exhibition has been running for 15 years, and this year is particularly special as we celebrate our history." The exhibition will run from June 25 to August 14.

Housing plans for disused pub

A DISUSED pub in a South Staffordshire village will be turned into housing, under new plans.

A planning application has been submitted to transform the Vaughan Arms, in Lapley, into residential use with a two-storey extension.

A previous application, to reduce the pub in size and turn it into a home, as well as creating a larger detached house on its car park, was turned down in 2009.

South Staffordshire Council will make a decision on the planning application in the coming weeks.

Police warning on con in towns

PEOPLE in Staffordshire have been urged to be vigilant following a number of town centre distraction thefts.

Police have issued the warning regarding a con where offenders offer cheap costume jewellery for cash or try to steal items of jewellery from victims whilst distracting them.

Offenders are described as being of Eastern European or Asian appearance and usually stop victims on the pretence they need to visit a sick relative or their car has broken down.

Tragic tale is about to begin at castle

THE cast of Othello are raring to go in their open-air production being staged at Stafford Castle.

Running from today until July 9 it will be the first time that Shakespeare's tragic tale of the misled military commander will be performed at Stafford Festival Shakespeare (SFS).

After three weeks rehearsing at Stafford Gatehouse Theatre, the cast will take to the stage for a production which is relocating the action to the British occupation of Cyprus.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

THE hour approaches. If you've missed the arguments on the EU referendum, here's a quick summary. If we vote Leave, income tax will go up, pensions will be cut, a plague of locusts will descend and we get Michael Gove as prime minister. If we vote Remain, our kettles will stop working, all bananas will be straight and a million Turks will arrive at Dover next weekend. Good luck.

IN a recent item on synaesthesia, the condition which jumbles up the senses, I suggested that Wednesdays were yellow. A reader insists they are blue. Damn this colour blindness.

ONE headline on this week's revelations about Clement Freud was: "Shocked widow says sorry to her husband's victims." In fact, Lady Freud apologised quickly and did not seem in the least shocked. I fear this will run and run.

I'M already missing Ben Elton's comedy series, Upstart Crow (BBC2) starring David Mitchell as the yet-to-be-famous Shakespeare, bouncing half-formed speeches and sonnets off his unappreciative friends and family. Elton kept the in-jokes at an Eng Lit level most of us could understand. But quite why he gave Shakespeare's family Birmingham accents is anyone's guess. Shakespeare came from Warwickshire so it's likely his family spoke with a rural Warwickshire accent. Could it be, forsooth, that Elton, like so many Londoners, simply thinks Brummies are good for a cheap laugh?

HAS there ever been a more deliciously detestable telly-villain than Rupert Everett as Feron, the corrupt Governor of Paris in The Musketeers (BBC1)?

He exudes so much nastiness that when we learn he is in agony from a crumpling spine, we just want to see him wince. What a class act.

PATRIOTISM is a bit like whisky. Too little and you don't feel the effects. Too much and you're ill. At the Last Night of the Proms some years ago, everyone was merrily singing Land of Hope and Glory – except for one red-faced, frothy-mouthed maniac in the front row who appeared to be screaming the words. I was reminded of him this week when the Women's Institute annual meeting in Brighton ended unhappily. In celebration of the Queen's 90th, the audience were happy to sing Happy Birthday and the national anthem. But when it came to belting out Rule Britannia with some members in union-jack costumes, others thought it was all a bit Ukippy and remained seated, for which they were harangued online and ordered to "enter into the British way of being British." I'm with the sitters on this. The British way is – or rather, was – not to make a fuss.

How far will £50 go for good cause?

Holly Addison

THE Katharine House Hospice charity is offering members of the public £50 – and asking them to turn it into the biggest donation possible.

Following the success of the scheme last year, the Stafford charity has set up the Accumulator Challenge, which sees teams of people given the cash and 50 days to transform it into a fortune. Challenge organiser Holly Addison said: "The challenge is now in its second year and, following the success of last year, we are really excited to see what innovative fundraising initiatives the teams come up with. "It is a great team-building opportunity as well as raising vital funds to support the hospice. We will give each team £50 and ask them to use it in order to generate as much money as possible; they can do whatever they like, as long as it's legal."

Handelsbanken in Stafford is supporting the challenge again this year and will be dishing out the £50 notes to all registered teams and kick-starting the challenge on September 13 following a launch event at the hospice. So far, teams representing Pure Gym, Carthy Accountants, County Hospital and Burntwood Cooperative have signed up.

Other local companies are urged to get in contact as soon as possible if they would like to take part in the challenge. Call Holly on 01785 270808 or email fundraising@khhospice.org.uk

Consultation begins on rail freight interchange

A PUBLIC consultation has been launched on a new strategic rail freight interchange which, if approved, will serve South Staffordshire and the West Midlands.

Four Ashes Ltd launched the public consultation last week. It runs until July 24, presenting its early plans and design options for the interchange.

The initial proposals outline development of a large strategic rail freight interchange (SRFI) on land west of junction 12 of the M6 in southern Staffordshire. It is hoped that such a scheme could boost the regional and local economy and create up to 8,500 jobs in South Staffordshire and the Black Country.

It would also be part of a national network of similar interchanges helping to transfer long-distance freight movements from road to rail and easing congestion on the motorway network.

Peter Frost, managing director of Four Ashes Ltd, said: "Getting people involved early is vital so that community and regional stakeholders' views are considered in the emerging scheme design."

"The masterplan outlines how key parts of the development could be arranged and so at this stage we want to know what people think of our two preliminary design options."

Public exhibitions are taking place at various venues including the Haling Dene Centre, in Cannock Road, Penkridge, on June 30 from 2pm until 7pm. For more details, visit: www.westmidlandsinterchange.co.uk

Email fraudsters target students

UNIVERSITY students in Staffordshire are being warned about a phishing scam as part of a campaign being launched by the National Fraud Intelligence Bureau.

Students have received a fake email from the finance department of their university saying that they have been awarded an educational grant.

When the recipient clicks on the link, they are asked to supply personal information and banking details such as usernames, passwords and credit card information which can then be used by the criminals to defraud the person involved.

Anyone who believes they have been the victim of phishing, or any other type of fraud, should report it to Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040 or online at www.actionfraud.police.uk

'We're making progress' on affordable housing

By David Banner

CANNOCK Chase Council says it 'continues to make progress' on increasing the affordable homes supply.

There are more than 1,100 applicants on the council's housing register, and bosses say they are 'actively working with partners to meet the housing needs of our residents'.

The council secures new affordable homes via Section 106 agreements with housing developers and also funds direct construction from its own resources.

Councillor Frank Allen, housing portfolio leader, said: "Despite funding reductions from government for social housing, Cannock Chase Council continues to make progress on this front by working with developers and building directly so that there are more homes available, especially for lower-income families".

At the end of April, the handover of 23 new properties in Green Lane, Rugeley, was completed. The scheme was carried out by local developer Jessup.

Available

Progress on the council's redevelopment scheme of the Moss Road Estate is 'going well'. The council's development partner, Keepmoat Homes, has completed 27 new council houses out of a total 65 being delivered by March 2018.

The mixed tenure site – council rent and private sale – provides a further 76 new homes which are available under the Government's Help to Buy Scheme, with properties for purchase available with a five per cent deposit.

The council has been working with, among other housing providers, Walsall Housing Group to deliver more than 50 new affordable properties in Lakeside Boulevard, Bridgtown, and also with Wrekin Housing Trust to deliver 34 properties on a scheme in Stafford Lane, Hednesford, due to complete in March 2017.

The council will be delivering a further 25 new properties on some of its former garage sites and other underused land.

Hairdresser retires after 55 years

Shirley Allison with her son Paul Horrocks and granddaughter Charlotte Horrocks at VIP Hairdressing in Cheslyn Hay

"I HAVE always enjoyed my career and it was a tough decision to retire – but I think it is time for a holiday now." Shirley Allison has dedicated her life to hairdressing, whether it be working on the shop floor or teaching the next generation of hairstylists the skills of the trade.

After 55 years in the profession, she has now retired, leaving her family business, VIP Hairdressing in Cheslyn Hay, in the hands of her son Paul and granddaughter Charlotte. Shirley started out as a 'Saturday girl' at Hilda's in Aldridge when she was 14 and her love for the world of hairdressing grew from there.

She said: "I enjoyed my Saturday work so much that I made sure I signed up as an apprentice when I left school. I just loved meeting people, I loved the work, and I thought I had a particular flair for it. I could be creative, and it just felt natural to be doing this job."

After working at a number of salons, Shirley, now aged 69 and living in Cannock, moved into teaching. She gave classes at Cannock, Burton Upon Trent and Tamworth colleges, inspiring the next generation of hairdressers to make their mark.

She said: "It is a wonderful feeling to see these young people learn their skills, realise their potential and make a success of themselves."

Shirley retired this month and is now looking forward to retirement – however, she says the reality of not having to work anymore still hasn't sunk in. She said: "It just feels like I am on a long holiday at the moment."

Celebration ceremony for county apprentices

APPRENTICES throughout Staffordshire are to be recognised at a special graduation ceremony.

Now in its second year, the event celebrates the achievement of higher and advanced apprentices putting apprenticeships on an equal footing with a university route to success.

The event is taking place on Wednesday, July 13 at the County Showground in Stafford, and those apprentices and employers interested in attending are urged to book their place.

Councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for learning and skills at the county council, said: "We are very pleased once again to be supporting this event."

"Every single person who has completed an apprenticeship can be proud of what they have achieved and, like university graduates, it's right they get their day on the stage too."

"Addressing skills shortages and providing young people with the right training to get quality jobs remains key to growing our economy."

"We also want our local employers to recognise the fantastic contributions that apprenticeships are bringing to their companies."

Apprentices can register by visiting www.graduationceremony.co.uk and selecting Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent Apprenticeship Graduation.

More information is also available on the Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire Graduation Ceremony Facebook page or by emailing apprenticeship.graduation@staffordshire.gov.uk

Retail figures 'support survey'

THE director at Cannock Chase Chamber of Commerce has commented on retail sales figures for May.

The figures show that retail sale volumes were up 0.9 per cent on the month, and six per cent on the year.

Chris Plant said the figures supported the Chamber's own findings.

He said: "Along with stronger employment figures, the latest rise in retail sales confirm the findings of our own quarterly economic survey, which showed that UK growth was continuing, albeit at a slower pace."

"However, these figures provide further evidence of the acute contrast between relatively strong retail sales and other sectors of the economy, such as exports and manufacturing, which continue to struggle."

My amazing day at Buckingham Palace

Jan Burns is made an MBE by the Prince of Wales at Buckingham Palace

A WOMAN from Great Wyrley has spoken of her pride after being awarded an MBE for her work in the care industry.

Jan Burns, chairman of the National Dignity Council, has been given the honour for her services to promotion of dignity in care for all.

She attended a ceremony at Buckingham Palace where she was honoured by the Prince of Wales.

Speaking after receiving her award, she said: "On a voluntary basis my job is to incite people to become champions and promote dignity. It has been my job to keep it going and really inspire people to want to become champions and to ensure that things are changed when dignity isn't being rewarded."

"I was nominated and it was a complete surprise in a sense - when I set out as a meals on wheels driver back in 1980 I knew I wanted to support people in the care profession."

"I felt overwhelmed walking into Buckingham Palace - overcome to think that I was walking through those palace gates with my dear family in awe of the whole occasion. It was amazing to meet Prince Charles. He's the future king and it is something not only for me, but for my children and grandchildren's future, that if they work hard enough at anything they will get there."

"He said to me 'Will you carry on doing what you're doing?' and in response I said 'I will, with passion'."

Jan, aged 65, started working with the local community in 1980 for meals on wheels and has since gone on to work as a care worker, and qualified social worker and set up her not-for-profit company Safe and Settled.

New guidelines aim to tackle traveller problem

A 'DISASTROUS' situation which saw dozens of travellers seize a leisure centre car park has prompted council bosses to ensure they can be booted off quicker in the future.

Occupants of more than 40 caravans which descended on Chase Leisure Centre and stayed for almost a week in March caused fear and outrage among locals.

As well as the trail of destruction they left behind, the wider impact of their stay has been revealed in a council report which stated visitor numbers at the facility were down 11 per cent for the week compared with the previous year.

As a direct result, Cannock Chase Council has drafted a new 'protocol' in order to deal with travellers more effectively.

Council leader George Adamson said: "In my view, after all of the problems we have had in the area with travellers, especially the disastrous time at the leisure centre, I don't think it has been dealt with particularly well. So I have instructed officers to come up with a protocol to ensure all of the relevant parties, the police, the council, Wigan Leisure Trust, and everybody else involved when travellers turn up, work together and know exactly what to do automatically instead of this faffing around."

Communicates

Cannock was blighted again by unwanted caravans in recent days on Staffordshire County Council property in Rugeley, behind B&Q at Wyrley Brook and at a site in Heath Hayes. The new protocol will essentially pinpoint whose responsibility it is to deal with them faster.

Councillor Adamson added: "It will identify who's responsible for what and make sure each organisation communicates better with each other. It should all in theory work smoother."

"This has been prompted by the Chase Leisure Centre situation in March. In the end it was a police officer in Stafford who made the decision on that which led to all of the chaos where it should have been dealt with by someone in Cannock."

Staffordshire Police are providing feedback on the protocol ahead of a full council report to be tabled next month.

A report from Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust, which runs Chase Leisure Centre, revealed for the year 2015-16 it expected to see about 1,300 more visitors at the facility.

'Guardian angel' firefighter praised

Firefighter Tim Anslow, left, has become friends with Naz after saving his life following an horrific car crash

A MAN who lost both his legs in a crash has hailed a Great Wyrley firefighter who dragged him from the mangled wreckage of the car as his 'guardian angel'.

Part-time firefighter Tim Anslow was travelling home from his day job at Toyota in Derby in the early hours when he saw a car, on its side, down an embankment.

The 48-year-old spotted the driver of the vehicle, known as Naz, on the road and saw that his legs were bleeding badly. He grabbed his friend's belt and used it to control the flow of blood.

Mr Anslow kept Naz warm and conscious while he waited for the emergency services to arrive. A doctor who treated him said Tim's action saved his life.

Mr Anslow, who has now become firm friends with Naz, was honoured for his bravery at an event at Chase Terrace Community Fire Station. The drama unfolded on February 7 last year just before 4am between the A35 and Pavilion Grove in Burton. A firefighter for 15 years, Mr Anslow said: "They say once a fireman, always a fireman and if there's an accident I will always stop."

"Naz took my phone number and I met him for the first time in June last year. He called me his guardian angel the first time we met. It was good to meet him, and we've met numerous times."

Probe as tasers drawn 50 times

POLICE officers in Staffordshire have drawn tasers 50 times since January, with the force set to come under greater scrutiny in its use of the weapon.

Local safer neighbourhood panels, set up by Staffordshire's police and crime commissioner, have been trained to examine the police use of tasers in their communities.

They will examine records of local taser use, including video recorded on police body cameras, to make sure tasers are being used appropriately.

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

Here's an idea, get rid of all bus lanes

THERE is a brilliant spoof doing the rounds where David Cameron warns that if Britain leaves the EU, the DFS sale could be about to end.

The gag has him claiming that "A vote for Brexit is a vote for bigotry, permanent global recession and full-price sofas", explaining how King John signed the Magna Carta on The Canterbury, "a stylish corner group with floral scatter cushions."

Is it just me, or is the most insightful commentary we have had on the subject so far?

YIPPEE! I'm sure you will all be as delighted me to hear that in just 12 months Wolverhampton Council has nabbed 71,000 motorists for driving in bus lanes, generating up to £4.2 million in fines.

In a city with a population of 250,000 – where 35 per cent of households have no car – that's some going.

Apparently, there is a team of trained observers whose job it is to wait for one of the cameras to go off, and then watch the footage of their quarry caught on television. Wouldn't you just love to invite them round for dinner?.

Still, the cash generated through the scheme has nothing whatsoever to do with reducing the council's deficit, and all the money will be spent on 'highway improvement schemes'.

Hmm. I wonder how many of these 'improvements' involve white paint, confusing road signs, and yet more lovely cameras?

The council, of course, does not want anybody to be fined, and would love nothing more than for everybody to refrain from driving in the bus lanes.

And you know what? I agree with him. And I think I have come up with a very workable way that the council can turn this utopian vision into a reality. Get rid of all bus lanes.

Look, there's nothing wrong with buses, I used one myself only last week. But surely, given Wolverhampton Council's commitment to equality and diversity, it would not wish to treat some road users more equally than others.

BESIDES, how can the driver of any vehicle be expected to understand bus lanes following new research which says the average human now has an attention span shorter than that of a goldfish?

A study commissioned by Microsoft reckons we are all now so addicted to our smart phones that our attention span is now just eight seconds, down from 12 seconds just 16 years ago.

By way of comparison, a goldfish can focus for nine seconds.

Meanwhile, new research says we now have an attention span shorter than that of a goldfish. We are so addicted to our smartphones...

Matt Sayers - 'it is always nice to get my work out there in front of people'

Come on in, it's time for your tea

AN artist who paints pictures of old-fashioned street scenes inspired by the memories of others has put his work on display.

Matt Sayers, aged 35, is the man behind a new exhibition at Cannock Library called Memories.

Matt, who started painting 10 years ago, has had his work exhibited numerous times in recent years.

Memories is a collection of pieces inspired by old-fashioned street scenes, where children would play in the roads surrounding terraced houses until they were called home.

Matt said his work was inspired by having

Paintings of street scenes are stirring up childhood memories at a Cannock art exhibition.

JORDAN HARRIS reports

conversations with other people who shared their childhood memories with him.

He said: "I really enjoy painting these pictures of times gone by."

"They come to me after conversations I have with other people about their days as children in years gone by."

"For example I could share a picture I like on Facebook and then get people speaking to me about how it reminds them of a certain time in their childhood."

"I will take that conversation away with me and use it as a base to start a new piece, putting my own spin on things."

Promote

The exhibition will stay at the library in Manor Avenue until June 30.

To promote its stay, Matt has participated in a number of 'live painting' events, where members of the public can watch him work on a piece.

Again, this usually provides him with the material to go away and create new work. Matt says that the public's reaction to the live painting events and the exhibition in general has been 'great'.

He said: "It is always nice to get my work out there in front of people."

"You spend a lot of time on your own as a painter and sometimes you start to wonder what people would think of what you are doing."

"To get a positive reaction is great because it justifies what you are doing."

"The live paintings really help to get more ideas together as well."

Image captures a serene day in park

A peaceful scene as Lichfield Cathedral towers over the lake at Beacon Park

THIS beautiful image was taken by an amateur Walsall photographer in Lichfield. It was taken by the lake in Beacon Park, with great views of the towering cathedral in the background. Helen Burbridge, a 46-year-old full-time mother from Walsall Wood, had gone to the park with her five children when she took the snap. She said: "The picture was taken in Beacon Park by the children's play area. "Taking pictures is a hobby of mine. We go for walks, and I take my camera with me. "I am 46 and I have been taking photos for 25 years. "I wouldn't say this one is the best photo I have ever taken. I have taken some really nice ones over the years - I just decided to send this one in." Speaking about Beacon Park, Mrs Burbridge added: "We go there quite often, it is great for the kids."

Number of unemployed claimants in county falls

THE number of people in Staffordshire claiming Jobseeker's Allowance and other unemployment benefits fell in May by 155 to 4,885 or 0.9 per cent of the working population.

Cannock Chase was down 35 to 700 (1.1 per cent), South Staffordshire by 20 to 690 (one per cent) and Stafford by 10 to 620 (0.8 per cent).

Lichfield saw no change at 400 (0.7 per cent).

By John Corser

More development projects to boost business growth in Staffordshire were starting this week, with county unemployment levels now the lowest of all of the West Midlands strategic authorities.

Staffordshire County Council's economy leader Councillor Mark Winnington said: "This summer will be a busy one in terms of new business development in Staffordshire at the same time as marking the completion of other projects."

"It comes against a backdrop of successful delivery by the county council and its partners and having what are now the lowest regional unemployment figures."

"We're striving to ensure Staffordshire people can access better paid, better skilled jobs."

The number out of work in the West Midlands rose in the three months to April by 7,000 to 159,000. The rise came as the UK total fell to an eight-year low as the numbers in work continue to reach record levels. The figures from the Office for National Statistics show the national jobless total was cut by 20,000 in the quarter to 1.67 million - the lowest since the spring of 2008.

Claimant numbers in the West Midlands fell last month by 640 to 80,105 - 2.2 per cent of the working population.

In the West Midlands employment was up 22,000 for the quarter to 2,648 million - a 43,000 rise on the year. The number of unemployed are down 19,000 on a year ago.

Nationally the number of women out of work was 12,000 higher at 779,000.

The final set of official labour market figures before the EU referendum also showed that 31.5 million people are in work - the highest since records began in 1971.

The UK now has an employment rate of 74 per cent - another record high - and a jobless rate of five per cent, which is the lowest for a decade.

8 NHS is now run on a shoestring

The Chronicle Thursday, June 23, 2016

IN reply to Mr A Allport's letter ("Failure to recognise mishaps", June 16) his comment that the last Labour government sold far more social housing than Thatcher ever dared is simply not true.

And his claim that I appear to be dishonest in disagreeing with his opinions leaves a great deal to be desired.

The crisis in the NHS which he refers to is nothing compared to what is going on under the Tories. The NHS is being run on a shoestring. There are £30 billion of efficiency savings, which are cuts in real terms. Accident & Emergency waiting times are not being met, and staff morale is at an all-time low.

If Mr Allport thinks that education has improved under the Tories, he should try talking to students in higher education who have seen their costs treble since 2010.

Historic building and grounds are disgrace

CAN I say through the Chronicle's letters page what a disgrace The Ivy House in Cannock and its grounds look.

The lawns, yes it was lawn, fronting the Wolverhampton Road is now as high as the windows.

I have contacted the person who has acquired this historic building three times in the last month, and while the last week has not been conducive to cutting the grass, there was plenty of time prior to the rain to address the problem. It would seem an easy thing to do as the lawns are cut regularly at his properties not 50 metres away.

As the current owner has recently joined a committee that is proud of the work it does in relation to the local environment, perhaps he could make his own building his first commitment to the town.

Perhaps he would also like to give some indication as to his long-term plans for the building as he also has another property within a mile of uThe

Ivy House, which he acquired from Staffordshire County Council at least three years ago and has seemingly not done anything with.

The residents of Cannock and the wider area of Staffordshire fought hard to keep The Ivy House from demolition when the county council was eager to get it off its books, and it is inconceivable that the current owner is now prepared to neglect the property.

How can we control numbers?

WHY should the Labour membership or its supporters listen to its own party about staying in the EU?

Their own policies within the three terms of office was an open-door policy on immigration, they allowed over three million in. Labour are stating its fears over workers' rights and conditions, what they achieved then was the loss of jobs and a severe decrease in wages. We were simply undercut.

Can you honestly believe they can control immigration by remaining in? At present we have numerous housing developments, one with over 700 houses being built; the pressures on services are at breaking point now. I accept we need housing but how on earth can we control an ever increasing population?

It's simply farcical, all areas have very little brownfield sites left and all parishes will have to accept further developments.

Don't let us become a clone of other towns

STAFFORD is in the enviable and unusual position in this day and age of standing at a crossroads – that of having the opportunity that many towns do not ever get, that of reinventing itself.

With all the new homes being built, with new retailers investing in the future of the town and with all the young forces families moving into the area, what a wonderful opportunity for the town to grow and compete with towns such as Hanley, to become the place to shop.

Stafford is a lovely town with the River Sow meandering through Victoria Park, a nice place to spend the day, a nice place to shop. Let's please not become a clone of every other town by losing all our individuality including our small specialist shops and our indoor market.

Worrying trend adds to shortage of skills

TODAY, June 23, is National Women in Engineering Day, which is dedicated to raising the profile and celebrating the achievements of women in the industry.

This is the third year that the day has been celebrated but behind the celebration is a worrying long-term trend for girls and women to shy away from an engineering career. This is not just an issue for gender diversity, it's a very significant problem that is contributing to skills shortages which, if they go unchallenged, will damage our economy.

In the UK, women represent just nine per cent of engineers, the lowest in Europe. Analysis by the Royal Academy of Engineering suggests we will need more than a million new engineers and technicians by 2020 to fulfil demand and continue to boost the economy. So improving our gender diversity – and indeed our diversity more generally in engineering – has a strong economic motivation.

Chase is all calm before the storm

These brooding skies over Cannock Chase were captured by amateur photographer Glenn Powell @fullflaskoftea could almost pass for an oil painting, shows panoramic views of the natural beauty spot with just a peep of sunlight breaking through the darkened clouds.

The heavens may have been about to open but that didn't stop amateur photographer Glenn Powell. He took the photo on Wednesday morning, just before torrential downpours in Cannock caused chaos. The image, which

Mr Powell, who is an amateur photographer from Birmingham, uploaded the picture to Twitter under his account @fullflaskoftea - gaining instant attention.

Facelift for schools trophy

THE Campaign to Protect Rural England's Staffordshire trophy, made from local timbers, has received a facelift ready for its 2016 relaunch.

The trophy is to be awarded, along with a monetary gift, to the school, as judged by CPRE Staffordshire's executive committee, that comes up with the best project contributing to the protection, conservation or improvement of the local environment.

All schools in Staffordshire can enter, and as the CPRE is supporting the Woodland Trust's Charter for Trees Campaign, it is particularly interested in projects with a focus on trees, woodlands and hedgerows. The award, however, is not restricted to any specific theme.

"Arts projects and competitions, such as crafts, poetry and writing, which engage young minds with the concept of looking after our countryside and green spaces and any other original idea your school may come up with may be submitted," a CPRE spokesman said.

The closing date is midnight on July 1 and an entry form may be downloaded from <http://bit.ly/1rpYlZF>

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Combined authority in homes and jobs vision

PLANS for almost two million new homes and 500,000 new jobs have been laid out as part of the new West Midlands Combined Authority (WMCA).

The group, which is made up of Dudley, Walsall, Sandwell, Wolverhampton, Birmingham, Solihull, and Coventry councils, will eventually take control of transport, economic development, housing, skills and mental health services across the region with £8 billion of funding over 30 years.

Cannock Chase Council is signed up as a member but without full voting rights. Other non-constituent members include Telford and Wrekin, Redditch, Tamworth, Nuneaton & Bedworth.

The authority will see 1.9 million new homes built over the next 15 years to help transform the West Midlands into one of the country's most attractive business hubs, bosses have said.

It is hoped the authority will oversee 500,000 jobs created, increased life expectancy for residents and an extra 20,000 businesses up and running.

Blueprint

At the WMCA's inaugural AGM, bosses revealed a range of targets, including a £70 million commercial development fund to provide short-term loans to businesses.

Combined authority chairman Bob Sleigh said: "Our plan is the blueprint for a region reborn."

The WMCA also announced a £200m land remediation fund to decontaminate industrial sites across the region.

"It is hoped the new sites can be redeveloped and taken over by new businesses.

A range of growth targets are outlined in the authority's Strategic Economic Plan, which highlights a number of areas including manufacturing, creative and digital, environmental technology, medical and life sciences and housing.

The aim is to transform the region from one which performs way below the national average economically to one of the UK's

Trainers and wildly decorated bras are in for the characters in 'Cheshire Cats', which is being performed by the Lichfield Players next month

THE Lichfield Players are in full swing rehearsing for their next production - 'Cheshire Cats' by Gail Young, which is being performed from July 19 to 23 in the Garrick Studio Theatre.

In the author's own words 'Cheshire Cats' is a 'comic and heartfelt tribute to ordinary folk who walk together en masse in amazing events like The Moonwalk all over the world to produce such extraordinary results for charity'.

She added: "My mum, sister-in-law, and a good friend had suffered from breast cancer. Sadly, all three are no longer with us, and they were my original reason for both walking that walk in 2003, and for subsequently writing the play." The play follows the girls' emotional journey as they aim to speed walk their way to fundraising success in the London Moonwalk while also enjoying a 'girlie weekend away' in the capital.

Tickets for 'Cheshire Cats' are available from the Garrick box office on 01543 412121 or via the Lichfield Players website at www.lichfieldplayers.org

Art of well dressing is in spotlight

Chase Terrace Ladies

DES Noons gave an interesting and informative talk on the history of well dressings in Derbyshire and some background information on the preparation for the Et-well Well Dressing Festival.

She works for the local Women's Institute and they spearhead the year-long preparations and involve local groups such as the primary schools and Scouts.

Well dressing is the art of decorating wells and springs, or places where wells used to stand, with natural materials to form pictures and designs as a thanksgiving for the gift of water, especially in times of drought. This ancient craft is thought to have pagan origins developed from the age-old fear and worship of water gods and spirits.

Christianity adopted and adapted the ceremony and in the early Middle Ages, well dressings were held.

Two people from the local WI are on hand over the three-day festival period to answer any questions from the public. They request donations which are divided up between four pre-chosen charities.

Anyone requiring funds is asked to submit an application at the start of the year and all are considered by the committee. Seeds that are used are sprayed with hairspray to deter the birds from eating it.

This year there were eight wells on display.

From its inception in 1970 to 2015 they have raised £90,232 for charity.

Next year's well dressing will be held from May 20-22.

Delight over grand donation to hospice

JANETTE Arrowsmith, chairman of Cannock Friends and Trish Mellor, treasurer, were delighted to be able to present a cheque for £1,000 to the hospice.

Some £70 of that sum was donated by Cannock Sopotimists who had raised the funds throughout the year 2015/16. St Giles was one of president Lynne Tuckley's chosen charities.

A group of local golfers also made a donation to the Cannock Friends - their 'winnings' from a golfing holiday. The remainder was raised at various small fundraising events hosted by Cannock Friends.

Cannock Friends of St Giles

Janette, Trish and Lynne, secretary of Cannock friends of St Giles, are extremely grateful to everyone who supports them.

Abigail Cligg, a member of the fundraising team at St Giles, accepted the cheque and thanked Cannock Friends not only for the funds they raise but also for all the work they do raising awareness of and promoting the work of St Giles.

Cannock Friends can be contacted on 01543 503739.

Runners put route to test

Rotary Club of Lichfield

DETAILS have been finalised for a run from Lichfield Cathedral to Tamworth Castle.

All four Rotary clubs covering the area, namely Lichfield, Lichfield St Chad, Tamworth and Tamworth Anker have been involved in the organisation of the event, which will take place on Sunday, April 9 next year. A route has been devised and has been approved in principle by councils and the police.

The 10-mile run will start in Beacon Park and finish in the grounds of Tamworth Castle. Use of both the castle grounds and the cathedral have been provided for free. Sponsorship of £5,000 has been pledged, with all costs split between the four clubs. Beneficiaries of any surplus funds have yet to be decided, but will include Staffordshire hospices.

Some 28 local club runners, including Lichfield Running Club, have already put the route to the test.

HS2 firm starts 24-hour complaints helpdesk

THE company responsible for building HS2 has overhauled its complaints process and will appoint a new director after a damning report by MPs.

HS2 Ltd was branded as having a 'defensive culture' and bosses needed to remember they 'serve the public' by the Public Administration and Constitutional Affairs Committee.

Responding to the criticism, HS2 bosses have revealed they have launched a new complaints system, including a 24-hour helpdesk, and will appoint a director of community relations reporting to chief executive Simon Kirby.

The company said: "We have continued to refine our processes for complaints handling and have recently changed our procedure to ensure greater clarity."

"Training in complaints handling is mandatory for all staff who join HS2 Ltd, and we now provide refresher training and workshops for those staff who have been working on the project for some time."

Investigation

"Developing a strong customer focus has been central to our new approach to engaging with the public. We now have a 24-hour helpdesk and we are looking at how our digital communications can be supplemented with additional local digital channels that provide opportunities for more interaction."

"We are keenly aware of the need to bring about a step change in our community engagement operations and are taking decisive action to ensure we have a stronger presence on the ground in the local communities affected by HS2. Over the past six months we have increased resources considerably within our engagement teams."

An investigation last year by the Parliamentary and Health Service Ombudsman identified a series of failings in communication and engagement with the tiny hamlet of Flats Grave Lane and Knox Lane near Lichfield which amounted to 'maladministration'. Following up that report, MPs on the Public Administration and Constitutional Affairs Committee investigated.

The committee's report said that what should have been consultation events were in fact turned into public relations exercises, and the information that was made available to the public was either too generic to be of use or was inconsistent.

Hundreds at careers fair

Young people and parents had the opportunity to meet more than 40 representatives from various organisations at the careers fair

MORE than 400 people attended an engineering careers fair at Chase Terrace Technology College in Burntwood.

Young people and parents had the opportunity to meet more than 40 representatives from organisations offering direct employment, higher apprenticeships, officer or graduate routes, as well as training providers, further education and higher education providers.

They were able to get advice and careers guidance and talk with employer representatives about career opportunities as well as finding out more about the new sixth-form engineering qualification and the TechBacc (technical baccalaureate). Companies at the event included Jaguar Land Rover, National Grid and JCB. Professional institutes included the Institute of Civil Engineering and the Engineering Construction Training Board.

"This event was a great success with over 400 attending as well as County Councillor Ben Adams, plus other local councillors," Rebecca Bynt, learning resource centre administrator at the college, said.

"A film crew from the National Careers and Enterprise Company also attended who filmed the event for their national website and social media."

Club puts on tennis taster sessions

Some of the players who attended the open day at Etching Hill Tennis Club

ADULTS and children turned out in large numbers for an open day at Etching Hill Tennis Club.

The day offered free coaching sessions to get people into sport, with the club working with the Impact Tennis scheme who helped run the sessions on the day.

Club secretary Stella Wilkes said: "The event was very well attended.

"Seven new members took advantage of our introductory trial membership offer for juniors, and the offer of free coaching for the next six weeks, is an opportunity not to be missed. The coaching sessions on offer will cater for all abilities, including complete beginners, and the club's aim is to boost membership, particularly in the younger age group, to ensure the club will thrive for many years to come."

The club has four men's, three ladies and four mixed teams in the Wilson Staffordshire Lawn Tennis League and the Burton Area League.

The club was officially opened in 1952 when an exhibition match took place between Miss Kay Tuckey who at the time was a No 2 Wightman Cup Player and Flo Judy Wallis, an RAF champion and Wimbledon player.

Bridging the sport gap

A CAMPAIGN has been launched to get as many people as possible engaged with summer sporting tournaments.

Staffordshire University has launched its Summer of Sport campaign, which will see academics and students from a range of subject areas from coaching, physiology, sports psychology and sports journalism provide information and advice on how to get the most out of each sporting event.

People can follow them and their expert knowledge and get the inside track on Twitter at #StaffsSquad and at the Summer of Sport blog.

Dr Peter Jones, head of the school of psychology sport and exercise, said: "This really is a massive summer for sport both domestically and internationally with Euro 2016 already under way and the US Open and the Rio Olympics and Paralympics fast approaching.

"With Stoke-on-Trent being awarded the European City of Sport title, the university is keen to bridge the gap between grassroots sports and benefits of sport and exercise to the individual to those bigger sporting fixtures that everyone's talking about.

"We are ideally placed to be making an active contribution to discussions around sport as we've recently been ranked 13th in the 2016 Guardian League Table for our UK Sport and Exercise Courses.

"This is the third year in a row we have gone up in this league table."

Impact of conscription in spotlight at study day

A UNIQUE study day into Staffordshire's role on the home front takes place this weekend.

Conscription into the armed forces was introduced in 1916 and with there being many objectors a series of tribunals was set up to oversee the process.

Now, the impact of conscription is in the spotlight at a unique study day on Saturday.

Pleas from conscientious objectors and details of the appeals of people from across Staffordshire are among the stories highlighted in a rare collection of appeal tribunals records to be explored on the day. All such records across the country were ordered to be destroyed after the war – but an oversight meant those in Staffordshire survived.

Attendees will learn about individual cases and the stresses and strains on work and family life during the Great War.

Gill Heath, cabinet member overseeing the county's Great War commemorations said: "This is a great opportunity to find out more about life on the home front in Staffordshire and the effects of conscription on local communities."

The Study Day will take place at the Entrust HQ building, Riverway Centre, Stafford, from 10am to 4pm. Tickets are £10 with free parking and refreshments and lunch provided. For booking and information visit www.staffordshire.gov.uk/leisure/archives/Events/home.aspx or call 01785 278380.

● Visitors will be able to see original First World War machine guns being fired at a 'living history' event at a stately home near Stafford on Sunday.

Sandon Hall, the home of the Earl of Harrowby, will revive its role as a recovery home for wounded soldiers during the war. Troops will be camped in the grounds, recreating preparations for the Somme campaign in 1916. The event runs from 11am to 4pm with admission £5 for adults and £3 for under-16s.

Military history brought to life

The sights and sounds of 2,000 years of history will feature at the Staffordshire Regiment Museum

THE Staffordshire Regiment Museum will be filled with the sights and sounds of 2,000 years of history as Romans, Royalists, 18th Century Marlburians, Napoleonic Guardsmen, American Civil War fighters, Great War Tommies and Germans, Second World War soldiers, the Home Guard and even the French Resistance meet to bring history to life.

These groups will be setting up camp in the grounds of the museum, and demonstrating how war was waged and life was lived during many of the most important periods in history. Tickets for the Meet The Warriors Multi Period Weekend are £7 for adults and £4 for children over five.

The museum's research team will also be on hand to offer advice on how to look into military service records. For more information call 01543 434394.

Parish maps go digital

HISTORIC parish maps in digital form will soon be available to be accessed by the public following a seven-year project.

The tithe maps of Staffordshire villages in the 1840s are some of the earliest detailed maps of parishes, showing houses, roads, footpaths, fields and woods, providing a snapshot of life in the county.

Records accompanying the maps also include the names of the owner and occupier of each plot.

The project to digitise the maps is being led by Friends of Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent Archives whose volunteers have been working on the scheme for more than seven years. Richard Totty, the group's chairman, said: "These are incredibly important historical records for the county and are vital resources for anyone interested in parish, house and family history. Many of the maps are also very large and beautifully drawn and would be a delight for people interested in maps themselves.

"Preserving the original documents and making them more available to people online is what the project is all about and it's thanks to our team of over 50 volunteers that the maps will soon be available."

He said they were grateful to organisations who provided funding and sponsored individual maps. Some £13,000 has already been raised but a further £5,000 is needed to complete the project.

Gill Heath, cabinet member for the archives service, said: "It's excellent news. We are incredibly grateful to the volunteers."

Unveilings at National Memorial Arboretum

THEY'VE been helping fight crime and make the nation's streets safer since before the Police Force was established in 1829.

Now, nearly 200 years on, the Police Horse has been recognised during a special ceremony at the National Memorial Arboretum.

The site welcomed a host of current and former members of the force to honour The Horse with the unveiling of a plaque.

Two police horses – Lionheart, a 17-year-old bay Clydesdale cross ridden by Sgt Jesse Wynne from the City of London Police, and Ariel, a 16-year-old Irish Draft mare, ridden by Insp Simon Rooke of the Metropolitan Police – were in attendance at the ceremony.

Mounted police on their way to the service at the National Memorial Arboretum

Rev Jonathan Osbourne, who took the service to honour The Horse

Important

The idea for the plaque followed a visit to the Arboretum by retired City of London mounted police officer John Taylor in 2014. While walking down the avenue known as 'The Beat' he noticed a plaque dedicated to police dogs, which led to his idea of a similar plaque in recognition of the horse.

Mr Taylor said: "I was a mounted police officer for 28 years and for me the horse has been a very important part of my life. In this age, with restriction on funding, it's a very easy resource to do away with."

"The beauty of a horse is it can patrol the streets offering public reassurance, it can be used as a means of public order or disorder, and for various carnivals and festival events where the police gives the event some gravitas."

The plaque was donated by the Mounted Police Association to honour their partnership with the horse. Engraved on it is Ronald Duncan's poem

The National Scouting Memorial was unveiled during a packed ceremony

'The Horse'. It was unveiled following a service conducted by Metropolitan Police chaplain Rev Jonathan Osbourne, in 'The Beat' adjoining the area of the Arboretum dedicated to City of London Police officers.

● The first National Scouting Memorial has been unveiled at the National Memorial Arboretum.

Based on a traditional campfire

Scouting scene with a stone seating circle which allows people to sit and remember 'happy memories of those passed', it features four carved life-size figures.

Its design is the result of a competition won by Karen Smith, a Scout leader from Northumberland, and Lotie Ibbotson, a 14-year-old Scout from North Yorkshire.

Anger at 'worst of all worlds' council cuts in social care

COUNCILLORS have hit out at cuts that mean the 'worst of all worlds' after Staffordshire County Council agreed to millions of pounds of social care savings.

The authority found itself with a £15 million black hole due to Staffordshire NHS Clinical Commissioning Groups following government orders to sort out their own budget rather than an agreement with the council to run the Better Care Fund. The cuts will see all 'non-essential running costs' put on hold.

The savings include £600,000 slashed from child and adolescent mental health services, more than £4.4m from reablement, rehabilitation and intermediate care services and over £1.8m from the sexual health budget.

Alan White, Staffordshire County Council's cabinet member for health, care and wellbeing, said: "As a county council we want to see more people living healthier, active, independent lives, keeping out of hospital and supported in their homes and communities for as long as possible.

"The Better Care Fund is a national scheme which is designed to support this by encouraging health partners and councils to shift focus and funding into community care for the benefit of residents and the wider NHS service. Staffordshire's BCF plan for 2016-17 has still to be agreed due to a significant funding gap in the expected contribution from the NHS and this has now been escalated to government.

Target

"Until this is resolved, it is sensible for the council to see if further savings can be made in our own running costs, look to prioritise funding of the care of people who rely on the council's help the most and review any additional funding we currently provide to the NHS to see where further efficiencies can be made."

But the move has been criticised by the county council's Labour group. The leader of the group, Councillor Sue Woodward, said: "The Conservative county cabinet has decided to target the most vulnerable people in Staffordshire to bear these cuts rather than spread the pain across the whole county council budget.

"In April the county council increased council tax by nearly four per cent including a two per cent social care levy to meet the growing needs of Staffordshire's ageing population. But now as a result of Government broken promises, the most needy will suffer. "So we have the worst of all worlds - a hefty increase in council tax with cuts to vital services."

● The county council is to cut 11 HR jobs as part of a new deal as it looks to find millions of pounds of savings. The council is hoping to save £5.5m from the new deal it has signed with Liberate UK for a new HR and payroll system and service. The cabinet signed off on the agreement and are looking for a three-year deal with Liberate, possibly rising to a maximum of nine years.

Councillor Ian Parry - 'taxpayers expect us to deliver services effectively, but efficiently'

But in a report prepared for the cabinet meeting, it showed that 18 full-time jobs in the department would be cut to seven.

Ian Parry, deputy leader of Staffordshire County Council and cabinet member for finance and corporate matters, said: "Over nine years this system is expected to save £5.5 million compared to the current one."

"Taxpayers expect us to deliver services effectively, but efficiently, which is why we constantly review what we do and how we do it to ensure best value for money."

The proposed system is being used for more than 600 organisations including Worcestershire County Council and police forces in Warwickshire and West Mercia.

Club's float in Charter Fair parade raises funds for Poppy Appeal

The Mansefield House Club raised more than £88 in the Rugeley Charter Fair parade

RUGELEY Progressive Working Men's Club – more commonly known as Mansefield House Club – took part in the Rugeley Charter Fair parade with a float raising money for the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal.

With stiff competition from the Brewery Street Arcade Traders and the Brownies, the Mansefield float came third out of three but raised more than £88 for their chosen cause.

Since the closure of the Royal British Legion Club in Bow Street, Rugeley, some of the Legion regulars meet on a Sunday afternoon at the Mansefield to come up with fundraising ideas as well as socialise with friends old and new.

The ever popular Legion Kids Halloween and Christmas parties have joined with the Mansefield's own children's parties to become even bigger and better. A Mansefield spokesman said: "With club membership at less than £10 per person, regular Saturday night entertainment, Sky Sports TV, snooker, darts and crown green bowls, it is one of the few family friendly, working men's clubs that retains its traditional values, as well as embracing new ideas.

"It also is the home of Starlite Events Ltd, who host the Mansefield Munchers, weekly lunch for the over-60s, and manage the hiring of the facilities for corporate events. They also provide fantastic buffets for funerals and parties.

"Rugeley Royal British Legion Branch is very grateful to Aldi who provided some much needed cardboard at the last minute, and also to the members of Mansefield House Club, Starlite Events for their help and support in the building of the float, which as usual required a little bit of adaptation and additional props before leaving for the parade."

Jim McKenry, president of Mansefield House, said: "It's great to see the enthusiasm of the float building team.

"I hope that the 2017 float will be more successful and that more and more of our members will take an active role in this project. The new members and Starlight have brought new ideas and expertise to this club, giving us a firm foundation for the future.

"If you are interested in becoming a member of Mansefield Club, or joining one of the activities that take place, contact us on 01889 582808.

"The club is open daily from 9am, with the bar opening in the week from 7pm, Saturday from 2.30pm and Sunday from noon."

FOCUS ON HEDNESFORD

Delight at response to mining memorial offer

MEMBERS of Chase Arts Public Spaces (CHAPS) say they are delighted at the response to their offer of adding named bricks to Hednesford's mining memorial.

The fourth and final phase of installing the memorial in the town centre was launched at the end of April.

Since then, requests for bricks have come from local residents but also from people now living in Scotland, Wales, Plymouth, and the Isle of Man, and from as far away as Canada and South Africa. All of them want to have their own or relatives' names commemorated on the memorial, which commemorates former workers in the Cannock Chase coalfield.

Names

Bricks cost £25 each and can be named for anyone who worked under or above ground at any of the pits in the coalfield. The final date for receipt of applications is August 31, 2016.

Further information and an application form can be obtained from www.chaseartsforpublicspaces.co.uk

It is also possible to order a copy of the book 'A Lasting Tribute' which will include an insert showing the names included in this final phase.

Books must be pre-ordered as there will be no reprints following the August deadline. Two new members of the CHAPS committee - Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling and local businessman Craig Watts - have endorsed the memorial project and others in which CHAPS is involved.

To contact CHAPS, email trishmellor@yahoo.co.uk or call its president, Mike Mellor, on 07583 655199.

Traveller site inquiry begins after appeal

AN inquiry to decide the fate of green belt land in South Staffordshire, where travellers have set up camp, has begun.

South Staffordshire District Council refused planning permission for the site in Shaw Hall Lane, Coven Heath, where travellers set up home with four caravans on August 7.

Following the travellers' appeal against the refusal, a public inquiry is being held.

The travellers were served with a temporary stop notice from the council after they moved into the site.

The notice applies for 28 days, during which councils are able to assess the travellers' circumstances and determine whether to take further enforcement action. However, despite the notice, the council claim that the travellers, represented at the inquiry by John Cunningham, continued to bring materials on site to construct outbuildings and widened the access.

Those acting on behalf of the travellers claim the land was already in use for the rearing of horses and included two outbuildings and an access route.

Shaw Hall Lane, in Coven Heath, where travellers have set up camp

They also claim that the land is the most suitable place within the area.

But, speaking at the inquiry, Freddie Humphreys, representing the council, said: "The proposal represents an inappropriate development in the green belt. The proposal would cause demonstrable harm upon the openness and permanence of the green belt, detrimentally impacting upon its essential characteristic. The proposed pitches would introduce built form and bulky structures impacting upon the openness of the green belt."

The inquiry heard that the land, now owned by Mr Cunningham, already has one stable building, with another disputed to have been built by the travellers after they arrived. It is also disputed as to whether tipper trucks containing materials to turn grassland into land suitable for parked cars was on the site on August 7.

Lucy MacDonald, principal planning enforcement officer for the council, said: "Hard-standing material was being tipped onto previously undeveloped land as my director and I arrived on site." Following the opening of the inquiry, local residents, council officials and representatives of Mr Cunningham attended a site visit to see how the land was being used.

Mr Cunningham disputes that any trucks were present on August 7 to tip hard material onto the grass and that they constructed a second building.

The inquiry was adjourned and will continue for four days from September 20 this year.

School celebrates its 'good' rating

Pupils at St Michael's CE First School in Penkridge celebrate their successful Ofsted report

A PENKRIDGE school is celebrating success after its recent glowing Ofsted inspection. The children, staff and governors of St Michael's CE First School were rated 'good'.

Headteacher Jayne Grundy said the outcome of the inspection reflected the hard work and commitment of all the staff, governors and children.

The inspection recognised that the headteacher, the staff and governors successfully promote the school's aims of creating an environment where pupils are safe and happy and where pupils enjoy learning.

Furthermore the inspectors reported that pupils had a clear understanding of what they were expected to learn by the end of the lesson.

Teachers were also praised for using questions well to challenge and move pupils' learning forward. The previous inspection in 2011 said the school needed to raise attainment in Key

Stage 2 particularly in maths. The inspector praised the school on addressing this issue: "The actions senior leaders have taken to accelerate pupils' achievement in mathematics have proved successful."

St Michael's has said it prides itself on working very closely with parents and the community, and the headteacher said it was 'wonderful' to read the positive parents' comments in the inspection report.

Stay away plea as A&E busier than in winter

THE Accident & Emergency unit at Staffordshire's biggest hospital has seen more demand in recent weeks than during the winter – typically the busiest time of year.

Bosses at Royal Stoke have now urged people not to visit the emergency department unless their condition is 'critical' or 'life-threatening'.

University Hospitals of North Midlands NHS Trust has issued the plea ahead of essential maintenance work starting at the end of August.

Managers say it would have a small impact on performance but gave a reassurance that capability and capacity would not be temporarily reduced in the emergency department.

The work at the hospital in Newcastle-under-Lyme is due to take up to four weeks to complete. The trust has issued advice to people on alternatives services to A&E, stating pharmacies could provide treatment for a range of common illnesses without the need for a GP appointment.

Patients have also been told to take advantage of the free NHS 111 service as a first port of call in none-emergencies.

And health chiefs have

By Carl Jackson

stressed that people should visit their GP services for ongoing ailments or visit walk-in centres, including the unit at Cannock Chase Hospital for minor injuries.

John Simpson, director of estates, facilities and PFI at the trust, said: "The Accident & Emergency department at Royal Stoke University Hospital is a state of the art facility which provides an essential service to the people of Staffordshire."

"These works are integral to help maintain this high level of service to its patients. We apologise for any inconvenience caused throughout this period."

Dr John Oxtoby, executive medical director, said: "A&E is for critical or life-threatening situations, so please make good use of other facilities."

Centre prizes make it a special Father's Day

Samantha Louise Scrimshaw, right, is presented with the Father's Day competition prizes by Natal Chapman

CANNOCK Shopping Centre has announced that Samantha Louise Scrimshaw is the winner of its Father's Day competition.

Samantha entered the competition on behalf of her two young children, in the hope of winning the special prize for their well-deserving father Michael.

She was presented with the prizes, which included a shaving set, a Police Eau de Toilette gift set and Nivea Men goodies by the centre manager of Cannock Shopping Centre, Natal Chapman.

"He's such a wonderful husband and father – he really deserves it," Samantha said.

"A big thank you to Cannock Shopping Centre for giving us the chance to win these lovely prizes."

Mrs Chapman said: "It was a pleasure to present these prizes to Samantha for her husband ahead of Father's Day."

The competition was run through the centre's Facebook page with the winner chosen at random.

Ambulance service calls soar at prison

AMBULANCE call-outs to HMP Featherstone have rocketed, with paramedics attending almost twice a day.

Crews were sent there on 92 occasions from April 1 to May 23 this year. In the previous 12-month period, paramedics attended 267 times. Over the whole of 2014-15, crews were called 127 times.

The figures released by West Midlands Ambulance Service also revealed an increase in call-outs at other prisons in the region. The statistics do not reveal how many call-outs related to prisoners or staff, or how many were related to violent incidents.

At HMP Stafford, crews were called 24 times over the 54-day period this year – an increase compared with the last two financial years, when crews were sent out 97 and 99 times respectively.

At Brinsford Young Offenders Institution, ambulance crews were called four times in the period this year. In 2015-16 they were called 13 times and in 2014-15, 24 times.

Hospital

At HMP Oakwood, there were no call-outs for paramedics in the 54-day period. There were two call-outs in 2015-16 and five in 2014-15.

At HMP and Young Offenders Institution Swinfen Hall in Lichfield, crews were sent 12 times in the 54-day period, compared with 75 in 2015-16 and 64 in 2014-15.

Of those call-outs at Featherstone, 19 have resulted in someone being taken to hospital this year. In the previous year, 118 were taken to hospital, with 71 people taken the year before.

Paramedics have taken 15 people from Stafford prison this year, compared with 75 last year and 77 the year before.

No-one from the Ministry of Justice was available for comment.

West Midlands Ambulance Service could not comment on why there had been such an increase in calls but spokesman Jamie Arrowsmith said all calls were treated the same.

Race is just quackers

Members of Rugeley & District Lions who launched the ducks with representatives from Staffordshire Search and Rescue Team who saved them

HAVING rained cats and dogs, it was the turn of the ducks to take to the water in the annual Rugeley and District Duck Race.

All 1,000 ducks had a unique name and were to compete in heats before the GP (Grand Paddle) Final held off the boardwalk in Brook Square. The winning duck won by a short bill to receive the £50 first prize with the second placed duck receiving £25 and the one swimming into third place £10.

All proceeds raised will be split between the Rugeley Lions and Staffordshire Search and Rescue Team who helped organise the event.

The corporate duck event was judged on appearance as well as performance with the Best Decorated Duck competition voted for by the public won by Mix and Match, with Gill Colliers in second place and Francesco's duck was the speediest.

"This daft event is just one of a number of activities Rugeley and District Lions organise throughout the year to put fun into fundraising. Don't dawdle – look us up on our Facebook page," said Ed Rule of the Lions PR team.

Organised by The River Cruise Line, part of Diamond Holidays (ABTA W0552)

As the summer sun sets over the Rhine Valley, one of Germany's great festivals gets underway which bathes this beautiful region in an explosion of colour and light. It's the legendary Rhine in Flames and it's nothing short of spectacular!

Accommodation aboard the mps Lady Anne, is a floating 'home from home', offering a warm and relaxed atmosphere, with each cabin having its own private facilities.

The refurbished restaurant offers comfortable seating for breakfast, lunch and dinner, and the lounge bar, the heart of the ship, has panoramic windows and plenty of seats for everyone.

On warm, sunny days there is the chance to relax on the sun deck, which also provides the chance to enjoy the spectacular scenery up close, as the ship navigates its way through sheer valleys and open plains and the ship's crew wait on their guests. There is also a shaded area, for those who wish to keep cool.

During this relaxing cruise, visits will be made to treasured spots along the Rhine, including one of the oldest and most beautiful towns in Germany, Koblenz and the quaint wine town of Rüdesheim.

Also on the itinerary is a visit to the city of Mainz, at the confluence of the Rhine and main rivers, then travelling back through the Rhine Gorge and around the Lorelei Rock a stop is made at Boppard, before the ship takes up position as part of the Flotilla, for the highlight of the holiday — the Rhine in Flames festival.

Nowhere is there a more extraordinary display of fire, water and light, as a fusion of sounds echo around the valley and a blaze of colours light up the night sky.

Optional excursions are also available to book to make the most of the holiday. These include a cable car ride in Koblenz offering breathtaking views across the region and a Volcano Express tour at Andernach, which takes a scenic railway journey climbing up the Eifel Mountains.

Oh Mamma Mia! It's a blockbuster

WEST End and movie hit Mamma Mia! is coming to Birmingham as part of its first UK tour.

The tale of family, friendship and romance on a Greek island, with a unbeatable soundtrack of ABBA hits, will bring sunshine and smiles to the city all summer as on Tuesday it starts a run that lasts until September 3.

To date, the blockbuster show has been seen by more than 54 million people in 49 productions in 14 different languages.

Meanwhile, Mamma Mia! The Movie is the highest worldwide grossing live-action musical film of all time with one in four UK households owning the DVD, Amazon UK's biggest selling DVD ever.

Wedding

From West End to global phenomenon, Mamma Mia! is one of only five musicals to have run for more than 10 years both on Broadway and in the West End.

Five years ago it became the first Western musical to be staged in Mandarin in the People's Republic of China.

Mamma Mia! tells the story of Sophie, a 20-year-old girl who has been brought up by her mother on a Greek Island. With her wedding fast approaching, she trawls through her mother's diaries to find out who her father is, in the hope she can invite him to the wedding to walk her down the aisle.

But Sophie gets more than she bargains for when she discovers there are three potential fathers and then they all arrive on the island that they last visited 20 years before, much to her mother Donna's surprise.

With music & lyrics by Benny Andersson & Björn Ulvaeus, Mamma Mia! is written by Catherine Johnson, directed by Phyllida Lloyd and choreographed by Anthony Van Laast.

Lucy May Barker stars as Sophie Sheridan with Sara Poyzer as her mother Donna Sheridan.

Gangsta Gran rides again

THE play version of David Walliams' hit children's book Gangsta Granny returns to Birmingham next week.

Following a successful run in December, the story about a granny and grandson's plot to steal the Crown Jewels is being staged at the New Alexandra Theatre from Monday to Saturday.

The production by the city's own Birmingham Stage Company, acclaimed producers of the Horrible Histories plays, was a family favourite hit with audiences.

Walliams, who is one of the judges on the popular Britain's Got Talent TV show, creator of the ground-breaking comedy series Little Britain and star of the recent BBC TV Agatha Christie series Partners in Crime, has now also become the best-selling author for children in the country and Gangsta Granny is his most popular book.

He began his publishing career in 2008 with his debut novel The Boy in the Dress. Then, after two other popular stories, in 2011 Gangsta Granny was shortlisted for both The Red House Children's Book Award and for the Roald Dahl Funny Prize.

At Christmas 2013 a TV version of Gangsta Granny was shown on BBC One with an all-star cast, including David Walliams himself.

Gangsta Granny went straight to number one in the children's book charts and his books have been translated into no fewer than 30 languages.

David Walliams said: "It's the most popular of all my books and I am sure this production by the brilliant Birmingham Stage Company will delight not just children but their parents and, of course, grandparents".

'It's the most popular of all my books'

Children's choirs in Romany Wood

MASSED choirs from primary and preparatory schools across Birmingham will be joining forces for a performance of Romany Wood at the city's Symphony Hall at 6pm tomorrow (Friday).

The 40-minute musical created especially for children by David Gaukroger and David Carr is being performed to raise money for Birmingham Children's Hospital.

The young voices will be joined by the King Edward's School and King Edward VI High School for Girls' Symphony Orchestra.

Tickets cost £5 or £8 for the concert which also features Shostakovich's Festive Overture. See the thsh.co.uk website.

Rock legend Ritchie in one-off UK gig

FANS of classic rock will be heading to the NEC's Genting Arena on Saturday night for a one-off UK show by Ritchie Blackmore's Rainbow.

One of only three European shows, it will see guitarist Blackmore and his band performing anthems by Rainbow and his first major group Deep Purple. The line-up also includes Lords Of Black singer Ronnie Romero, Stratovarius keyboardist Jens Johansson, Bob Nouveau on bass and David Keith drums. Support from Mostly Autumn.

Texas boogie rock legends ZZ Top have a sold out gig at Birmingham's O2 Academy tonight (Thursday).

Back to 60s folk at Bilston venue

BLACK Country fans of 1960s British folk-rock are in for a treat with three giants of the genre visiting Bilston's Robin 2 venue next week.

On Tuesday it hosts the re-united Fotheringay featuring original members Jerry Donohue, Gerry Conway and Pat Donaldson with singers, Kathryn Roberts and The Voice's Sally Barker, with songs performed by the late Sandy Denny. Then Jacqui McShee brings 60s folk-jazz favourites Pentangle to the Robin on Thursday, June 30, with support from Magna Carta featuring prog rock-folk veteran Chris Simpson. Who will be this year's ace in the pack?

There's barely been time for tennis fans to recover from Novak Djokovic beating Andy Murray in the French Open final, and now here we are again - as the world's best players return with their all-whites freshly bleached to do battle at the All England Club.

The third Grand Slam of the year on SW19's hallowed grass courts is always one of the highlights of the sporting calendar, and it's an early start for Sue Barker today, as she introduces coverage of the opening day's play.

The action on Centre Court traditionally begins with the men's singles champion beginning the defence of his title.

That man is Djokovic, who goes into the tournament as the heavy favourite after dominating the men's game for the last couple of seasons.

The Serb won his first Wimbledon title in 2011, and famously celebrated by eating a handful of Centre Court grass.

He made the final again in 2013; and in 2014 and 2015 was munching happily on the turf again as he defeated Roger Federer both times to claim back-to-back titles - the first man to do so since Federer's unequalled five-year reign from 2003 to 2007.

Djokovic's four-set defeat of Murray in Paris a fortnight ago saw him become the first man since the great Rod Laver in 1969 to hold all four Grand Slam titles at the same time, and few would bet on him adding to his three Wimbledon successes a week on Sunday.

His main danger is likely to come from world No.2 and 2013 champ Murray, who may trail Djokovic in the head-to-head, but continues to win enough matches against the Serb and push him in the ones he loses to keep his rival and friend honest.

Murray can expect more support than ever this year after capturing the Davis Cup for Great Britain in 2015, and if he can keep heart-stopping five-set epics in the early rounds to a minimum, he could be solid pick to reach the final at the All England Club - where he's beaten Djokovic before.

As far as the women's tournament goes, Serena Williams remains very much the queen of the game, but she hasn't won a Grand Slam title since she beat Garbine Muguruzza on Centre Court 12 months ago.

Her quest for the calendar-year Grand Slam and a 22nd title overall, which would tie Steffi Graf's Open Era record, was unexpectedly derailed by Italian veteran Roberta Vinci in New York last year.

Returning in January at the Australian Open, Williams suffered another surprise defeat to left-hander Angelique Kerber.

So no calendar Slam this year, but the quest for 22 was very much still on, and despite various illness and injury problems Williams stormed to the French Open final for the loss of just one set - only to be defeated by Garbine Muguruzza.

On the home front, Johanna Konta has enjoyed a 2016 campaign to remember and the Briton will be hopeful that the partisan crowd can see her reproduce the form which saw her reach the Australian Open semi-final in January.

Sue Barker presents Wimbledon 2016, Monday, BBC2, 11.30am

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY

Superfoods: The Real Story Channel 4, 8.30pm

Kate Quilton returns with the programme that investigates the purported health benefits of superfoods. She visits the Italian city of Naples to explore the potential cancer-busting properties of the humble tomato, before travelling to Japan to find out if the secret of youth is contained in fermented soya beans, and also examines if a glass of red wine can really help boost brain power.

Wentworth Prison

Channel 5, 10pm

Welcome back to Wentworth Prison, the Australian jail where the staff are arguably more dangerous than the inmates. It's been four months since Governor Joan Ferguson murdered Jess Warner and set fire to H Block, and she's now being held in Isolation Protection - which should give her more time to dream up new ways to fabricate her innocence.

TUESDAY

The Living and the Dead BBC1, 9pm

Fancy a spooky new drama to get your teeth into? Then this series starring Colin Morgan should be just the ticket. When the death of his mother brings Nathan Appleby and his wife Charlotte back to the family estate in Somerset, they must turn the farm's fortunes around or risk ruin, and the devastation of the local community. However, when a vulnerable teenage girl is brought to Nathan, seemingly possessed by a terrifying spirit, he cannot leave her to suffer. He must use every psychological technique he has to find a way to free her from this terrible burden.

WEDNESDAY

Britain's Favourite Dogs ITV, 8pm

A count-down of the nation's 10 favourite breeds, based on a survey of 1,000 dog owners, discovering how the favourites have changed over the years. The survey also uncovers what makes people fall head over heels for a particular type of dog, with almost a quarter of all households in the UK accommodating one of man's best friends. The programme gets to meet the owners of some of Britain's most outstanding pooches, before revealing which breed emerges as top dog.

THURSDAY

Ramsay's Hotel Hell Channel 4, 10pm

New series. Gordon Ramsay uses his wealth of experience in the restaurant business to help more struggling hotels, motels and B&Bs across America, putting the owners and staff to work as he attempts to save their establishments from disaster. He begins with a visit to Angler's Lodge in Island Park, Idaho. Owner Dave Eby built the lodge with his own hands, but a family tragedy has caused him and wife Dede to shy away from the hotel and the community. Gordon is desperate to help mend this broken family - but is it too late to save their business?

FRIDAY

Gogglesprogs Channel 4, 8pm

Young TV viewers watch a range of programmes, from entertainment shows to documentaries and classic films, as well as up-to-the-minute news reports. In London, childhood friends Shuaib and Janai love watching cartoons together. In Birmingham, mates Edie and Teanna are both in the school book club, and in Leicester are six-year old Geet and her four-year-old brother Hanson, who wants to be a Formula 1 racing driver.

The Living and the Dead, Tuesday, BBC1, 9pm

The Last Leg Channel 4, 10pm

Originally just a nightly Paralympics round-up on Channel 4, this show fronted by Adam Hills, Josh Widdicombe and Alex Brooker, has become a massive success mainly due to it having exactly the right amount of edgy humour to break down barriers over disability and any other topics the public may feel are 'awkward'. So central is this idea to the show that there's even a twitter handle, #isitok, which allows viewers to tweet questions. This provides some of the best moments - partly for confronting the dilemma partly in providing an excuse for Hills, Widdicombe and Brooker to cite the most stupid and/or offensive thing they have recently heard. Tonight the trio are joined by celebrity guests for a comic review of the past seven days, answering more edgy current affairs questions that other shows might duck.

New ultimate Octavia vRS

By John Griffiths

WHEN Skoda's sporty Octavia vRS first hit the streets 15 years ago, it was seen as something of a practical family saloon which hid its performance light under a bushel.

But that didn't last for long, when police forces up and down the country began using the discreet vRS as an unmarked, undercover car for bringing road-going offenders to book. It rapidly became something of a legend.

Now Britain is Skoda's number one market for the sporting marque, with a quarter of all Octavias sold here bearing the vRS badge on their bonnet. That still includes the blue light brigade, where the Skoda has to prove itself in performance, handling and braking tests against much more expensive cars before it can even be considered for recruitment.

Now, though, there's a new, ultimate Octavia vRS which doesn't only do the business but looks the part too, with some styling touches which set it apart.

Like its siblings in shares the same modified platform and engine as its perhaps more famous cousin from parent company VW, the Golf GTI. But Skoda's engineers have turned up the wick on the 2.0 litre turbocharged engine, so that it now produces an extra 10PS (to 230PS) of power – hence its full name the Octavia vRS 230.

It also gets the sophisticated electronic differential system first seen in the SEAT Leon Cupra which, with its benefits from traction and sure handling, gave that car the fastest front wheel drive crown on the fast and twisting Nurburgring.

The vRS 230 official 0 to 62mph spring time is 6.7 seconds, only a tenth quicker than the standard 220PS vRS so you begin to see the significance of the electronic diff. That, plus a modified free-flowing sports exhaust and the modest power increase seem to have done wonders for the Octavia too: it completed the Nurburgring ten whole seconds faster than the standard vRS.

As for its looks, it's not just the vRS badging which sets the new flagship model apart: a gloss black finish on the grill, door mirrors and spoiler, 19-inch alloy wheels, and red brake calipers.

Inside, it has red-stitched leather sports seats (heated and electrically adjustable, naturally), a leather-trimmed multi-function sports steering wheel and sports suspension.

Potential

There's also a performance mode selection feature: in other words press a button and you unleash the full potential of the 230PS under the bonnet.

That extra kit and performance put the price of the vRS 230 up by £2,500 to £26,580: hardly bargain basement, you might think, but compare that to the higher prices of the Golf GTI and other performance rivals and it begins to look better and better.

The Skoda's cabin is a pleasant place to be, with plenty rake and reach adjustment on the steering wheel and electrically adjustable seats for the driver to find his ideal position.

While the extra power does make a slight difference to performance, it's the fact that this is a VW Group TSI (turbocharged) engine which really dictates the car's character. It endows the vRS with a hefty 350Nm of torque, all of which is available from just 1,500rpm. This gives it the feel of a bigger engine, with get up and go from the moment you touch the throttle, and responsive almost regardless of speed or gear.

But if you do stir the positive six-speed gearbox and press harder with your right foot, you're rewarded with a surge of acceleration and a pleasing growl from the sports exhaust.

This combination of relatively small engine and turbocharging has other benefits, too. If you drive with a little restraint and avoid going for the growl too often, you can achieve around 40mpg (the official average is 45.5mpg with CO2 emissions of 142g/km).

That's entirely reasonable for a full-sized family saloon with this performance potential.

The Octavia has proved its practicality and durability with families, the emergency services and, of course, taxi drivers – I recently rode in one with 400,000 miles on the clock.

The vRS, of course, may have more go but it's basically the same car with room on board for five with a big boot – 590 litres, in fact, or up to 1,580 litres with the rear seats folded flat.

This new 230 version is, as you'd expect, one of the best equipped, too, with dual zone climate control (and separate outlets for those in the rear), an upmarket audio and connectivity system, touchscreen navigation, sunset glass and that sporty leather upholstery.

To complete the sporting theme, the multifunction trip computer even includes a lap timer: handy if you're planning a trip to the Nurburgring, no doubt.

There is a comprehensive range of safety equipment, from seven airbags to electronic wizardry such as traction, stability and brake enhance,ent systems, plus hill hold assist and cruise control.

The Octavia, along with its smaller sibling the Fabia hatchback, are the dynamic duo when it comes to driving Skoda forward to its 75,000 UK sales last year – although the much-praised new Superb is making headway too.

The new Octavia vRS 230 flagship will no doubt draw more attention to the Octavia range, which later this year will include a new Sport Line version: similarly equipped to a standard car but with sports styling to broaden the car's appeal.

Swift is moving swiftly

Suzuki says that global sales of Swift have now passed the five million mark, just eighteen months after the celebration of four million units.

First launched in the UK in May 2005, more than 118,000 Swifts have been sold and it is the most popular model in the range, accounting for 36 per cent of the UK sales mix.

Swift is a world strategic model that was first built in Japan in 2004 with production bases expanding the year after to Hungary, India and China. Production then commenced in Malaysia (2007), Pakistan (2009), Thailand (2012) and Vietnam in 2014. All European Swifts are made at Suzuki's established Magyar plant in Hungary.

Around the globe, 11 per cent of Swift sales are in Japan, around 50 per cent in India and 19 per cent across Europe. Swift is on sale in 140 countries and has won more than 70 awards.

In the UK, Swift is available in three and five door versions; it has a 1.2-litre petrol engine which emits 116g/km CO2 as well as a Dualjet engine equipped with twin fuel injectors that records just 99g/km of CO2 and offers even stronger fuel economy. Swift is also one of the safest cars in its class with a five star Euro NCAP rating as well as offering a low cost of ownership proposition.

Swift is available in five clearly defined specification grades which are SZ2, SZ3, SZ-L, SZ4 with 1.2-litre petrol engine and Sport with 1.6-litre engine.

All models offer seven airbags and ESP as standard, front passenger airbag deactivation facility, electric windows, remote central door locking with deadlocks, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors, MP3 / WMA compatible CD tuner with USB port and steering wheel mounted audio controls.

It can also be specified with four wheel drive which offers added safety during the winter months, the 4x4 is available as a five door 1.2 Dualjet petrol model with manual transmission and equipped as either an SZ3 or SZ4 grade.

Thanks to the use of small and lightweight components Swift 4x4 is just 65kg heavier than an equivalent 2WD petrol model.

All Swift models except 4x4 and Sport are available with a 0 per cent PCP (Personal Contract Purchase) Finance offer until the end of June 2016.

Taking SZ3 three door as an example, a deposit of £2,411 is required followed by 42 monthly payments of £99 and a final payment of £3,680 to keep the car.

The three door Sport is available with an APR rate of 2.8 per cent on PCP for £169 per month payable over 48 months with a deposit of £1,639.

DRIVETIME

Best in class for fifth year

Ford's tiny yet powerful 1.0-litre EcoBoost engine has been voted best in class at the International Engine of the Year Awards for the fifth year in a row.

Judges praised the combination of drivability, performance, economy, refinement and technology that continues to set the standard.

The frugal three-cylinder EcoBoost engine was named "Best Engine Under 1.0-litre" by a panel of 65 automotive journalists, from 31 countries, to win its class each and every year since launch.

This year it finished ahead of 32 competitor engines, 19 more than it competed against in 2012. Significantly, 2015 also saw an increase in competition from global automotive manufacturers of sub 1.0-litre, turbocharged engines with direct fuel injection.

In 2014, the 1.0-litre EcoBoost became the first engine to be named overall International Engine of the Year for a third time in a row, and also was in 2012 named "Best New Engine." In 2015, more than 105,000 Ford vehicles were sold with the 1.0-litre EcoBoost in the UK alone.

"The 1.0-litre EcoBoost was a game-changer, and despite others following our lead, it remains the undisputed benchmark in its class five years on," said Joe Bakaj, vice president, product development, Ford of Europe. "The spirit of innovation continues to drive us as we look to use the same smart thinking for a new breed of efficient, clean and powerful down-sized diesel engines."

Available with 100 PS, 125 PS and 140 PS, and even 180 PS in the Ford Fiesta R2 rally car, the 1.0-litre EcoBoost engine powers vehicles in 72 countries worldwide. In 140 PS form, the engine delivers a bigger power-to-litre ratio than a Bugatti Veyron. A road-legal Formula Ford fitted with a 205 PS version of the engine also lapped the famous Nürburgring circuit, in Germany, in 7 minutes 22 seconds; a performance that put it ahead of a host of supercars including the 600+ horsepower Lamborghini Aventador, Ferrari Enzo and Pagani Zonda.

Eleven models, including Fiesta, EcoSport, B-MAX, Focus, C-MAX, Grand C-MAX, Tourneo and Transit Connect, Tourneo and Transit Courier, and Mondeo are available in Europe with the multi-award winning engine. Nearly one in three Ford vehicles sold in the UK in 2015 were equipped with the turbocharged 1.0-litre unit, and almost half of all Fiesta sales.

Hot Civic Type R sets new lap times

By James Parker

Honda's 'race car for the road' Civic Type R has crisscrossed Europe in an effort to set new benchmarks for front wheel drive production cars at five legendary circuits across Europe.

Inspired by the Civic Type R which smashed the front wheel drive lap time at the Nürburgring Nord-schleife in May 2014, the Honda team developed this European challenge to assert Type R as the leading front wheel drive performance hatchback.

The campaign started on a rain soaked day in April at Silverstone, the home of the British Grand Prix. Three-time British Touring Car Championship winner Matt Neal took the wheel to set a time of two minutes 44.45 seconds. Not content with this time, Matt and the team returned to the circuit later in the month to set a dry lap time of two minutes 31.85 seconds.

In early May, attention shifted to the iconic Spa-Francorchamps circuit in Belgium. The track, beloved by racers of all nationalities and featuring the famous Eau Rouge section, was taken on by Honda Racing new boy Rob Huff. Huff set a blistering time of two minutes 56.91 seconds.

With two attempts successfully completed, Italy's historic Monza circuit was the next target. Another member of Honda's WTCC squad, Hungary's Norbert Michelisz, took the wheel and piloted the car around the famous Parabolica to return a time of two minutes 15.16 seconds.

Momentum was building towards the final session at the Hungaroring, but first a trip to historic Estoril with Tiago Monteiro taking the reins on home turf. However, a nasty crash at the WTCC Race of Germany put the Honda ace out of action. Fellow Portuguese racer and WTCC safety car driver Bruno Correia was drafted in at 24 hours notice. With just one day in the car, Bruno posted a time of two minutes 4.08 seconds.

Finally, the team arrived at the last session in Hungary on June 6. The perfect driver for this mission was once again Norbert Michelisz, following his race win here in 2015 while racing a WTCC Civic Type R for independents Zengő Motorsport.

Over two days, Norbert pushed his production Type R to the limit to set a benchmark of two minutes 10.85 seconds and wrap up the five circuit effort.

Philip Ross, Senior Vice President of Honda Motor Europe, commented, "This challenge secures Civic Type R's position as the benchmark in the front wheel drive performance segment. With the support of our touring car stars, it is a fitting testament to the team who engineered and designed it as the ultimate race car for the road."

At its launch a year ago, the Honda Civic Type R represented the start of a new performance era for Honda; drawing on the brand's racing DNA to deliver the pinnacle of the Civic line-up.

A crucial part of a wave of next-generation vehicles from Honda - which will continue this summer with the launch of the all-new NSX - the Type R is a fundamental demonstration of the brand's pioneering approach to technological innovation.

The Civic Type R boasts a world-first application of Honda's new 2.0-litre VTEC TURBO engine, aggressive function-led styling, and pioneering new chassis technologies. Together, these features deliver one of the most immersive and rewarding driving experiences in any sector.

Hundreds of classic Fords coverage at Old Ford rally

Around 750 classic Fords will converge at the British Motor Museum when it hosts the 8th Old Ford Rally held in conjunction with the Ford.

The show, which takes place on Sunday, July 17, is the biggest rally of classic Fords in the UK. Vehicles including commercials, tractors and vehicles with a Ford engine built up to 1990 will be on display, exhibiting the incredible range of vehicles produced by one of the world's biggest manufacturers.

Visitors will be able to see a huge range from Model Ts to the cars of the pre-war austerity years plus agricultural vehicles, Thames and Ford commercial vehicles plus the more luxurious post-war Zephyr's, Zodiac's and Granada's. There will also be the Mk1 and Mk2 Cortina's, Anglia's, and Escorts as well as Capri's from the 1960's - mid 1980s.

The show will host a display of Ford or Ford engined military vehicles of all ages and the Bicester Home Guard will be giving a drill display throughout the day. There is also an autojumble and an arena with live displays and commentary throughout the day. The Midlands Meccano Guild will also be featuring an exhibition of hand built models with over 45 tables of models on display within the Museum by the cafe.

Tom Caren, show manager at the British Motor Museum stated "This is a superb show now in its eighth year and the Old Ford Rally is a real enthusiasts event and incredibly popular with fans of this iconic marque. Anyone who loves old Ford vehicles from the 20th Century will have a great day out".

Tickets for the show cost £14 on the day for adults, £9 for children and £39 for a family. Discounted tickets are available in advance online. Camping is available on Saturday July 16. Price per pitch, tent or caravan, is £25.

New top-of-the-range Jeep Cherokee Overland version

By James Parker

Plans to expand the popular Jeep Cherokee range of 4x4 vehicles have been announced with details of a luxury new 'Overland' version.

The new top-of-the-range model, which made its international debut at this year's Geneva Motor Show, is a 16MY model, and provides sophisticated style, elegant interiors, premium equipment with, of course, the Jeep brand's legendary off-road prowess.

Packed with a host of standard equipment, the new Jeep Cherokee Overland comes equipped with a 2.2-litre MultiJet II 200 horsepower turbo diesel engine paired with a nine-speed automatic transmission in either Active Drive I or Active Drive II 4WD.

The potent engine gives the car a 0-62mph time of 8.5 seconds and a top speed of 127mph. The Euro 6 unit has a 149g/km CO2 figure, due to an improved final drive ratio when compared with the MY15 Cherokee, and a fuel economy of 50.4 mpg.

The stylish new addition features a polished bright front grille, new body-coloured door cladding, front and rear bumpers and wheel arches, new 18-inch polished bright aluminium wheels, standard HID bi-xenon headlamps, and is finished with an Overland badge on the tailgate.

The car comes in a range of colours: Deep Cherry Red, Bright White, Brilliant Black and Billet Silver.

Its refined looks are complemented by a long list of premium enhancements, including powered Nappa leather ventilated and heated driver and front passenger seats with four-way lumbar adjustment, memory driver's seat and mirrors, a new steering wheel with wood insert, anodized silver bezels and vent surrounds, and Berber floor mats.

The interior is available in Morocco Black Nappa Leather, or in a brand new Pearl coloured Nappa Leather finish. Both interiors have no additional cost and both carry the signature Overland logo in premium stitching on the front seats.

Entertainment comes courtesy of a powerful Alpine Premium sound system, while there's also a Uconnect radio with 8.4-inch touchscreen display, Bluetooth and GPS navigation.

The equipment level on the Cherokee Overland continues with, as standard, a stylish panoramic sunroof, power tailgate and ParkSense front and rear reverse assist system.

Pricing for the new Jeep Cherokee Overland is as follows:

- 2.2 MultiJet II 200hp Overland Active Drive I 4WD 9 speed automatic £38,745
- 2.2 MultiJet II 200hp Overland Active Drive II 4WD 9 speed automatic £39,950

Couples court in tennis club's own love match

A WOLVERHAMPTON tennis club boasts a unique history of match-making – and they are now serving up plans for the future to ensure their legacy continues.

Formed in 1924 in Finchfield, Linden Lea's history is remarkable. They've survived a World War, redevelopment plans giving them just 12 months to relocate and the tough act of constantly bleeding new members into the club.

The club is set to open its first tennis academy at its impressive hub in the centre of Compton Park campus.

Chairman Alan Hughes has been married to fellow club member Jenny for 54 years. They met at the club more than 60 years ago.

Together, along with up to a dozen other lasting marriages the pair have seen the club peak as not just a tennis club, but also one of the most reputable social meeting points in the area.

Glorious

But for now Alan, aged 76, and 81-year-old Jenny are thrilled at the plans put in place to ensure the club has a rich future to match its glorious past.

The club certainly has facilities to attract new members having been re-housed 12 months ago to a new base – alongside Wolves' training ground in Compton – which was unveiled by Wolves' chief executive Jez Moxey.

"It's been fantastic to move onto the new site with the brick-built clubhouse and three floodlit courts," said Alan.

"We're on the Compton complex next to Wolves' training base and there are two schools there, St Peter's Collegiate and St Edmund's.

"There is Wolverhampton Girls' High School just down the road and also Wolverhampton Grammar School, with places like Smestow Academy also close. "The Way Youth Zone in the city are also very keen to be involved.

"We want more youngsters at the club. At the moment we have about 60 senior members and 30 juniors.

"So we hope that the academy will help us with that and get more local kids involved."

Mike Clendon is chairman of the club, which boasts three men's teams competing in the South Staffs Tennis League, along with a women's team.

For their fresh academy unveiling, Hughes and Co are hoping that the brother and sister partnership of Dan and Sally Nicholson will prove a big attraction.

Sally arrives as official coach of the academy, while Dan – who coaches with Wombourne and Worfield tennis clubs, will also be helping out.

The club recently hosted a taster session open day for keen youngsters to come and practise their shots. Alan continued: "We think there is tremendous potential for our club now.

"We have tried before to moderate success but there is real impetus with the new clubhouse and facilities. Last time we were on older courts, rather caught up on a building site.

"Dan and Sally's help will hopefully really get the academy off the deck.

"We're hoping to have a great relationship with the schools and the youth zone. I know Dan has already been St Peter's to give some sessions."

Driving up interest has not always been a concern for Linden Lea. Hughes explained the secret to long-lasting 'love' – was purely that the club was the place to be.

"In those days we were the centre of junior activity in the area," he said. "We actually had to limit the age that people were able to join at 22. There was even a waiting list!

"It wasn't just tennis. We would go to dances, do swimming – all different social things."

They would regularly hold jumble sales, and visit Swancote Swimming Pool, stopping off for a refreshing trip to the Cider House on the way home.

Weddings

"As youngsters do when they go to social clubs and spend a lot of time in one place – the young men and women got together," he added.

"There have been lots of weddings, my own included, and all of the partnerships saw a lifetime.

"Some have died now and some moved away, but we have a handful who remain social members and we get together every month.

"Neville Tarratt is 90 now and last year he helped us open the new base, he even gave a speech.

"Roger and Monica Wilkes remain part of our social club and Peter and Joyce Wakeman are still interested in the wellbeing of the club."

While the past remains a fairytale story, Alan is insistent that Linden Lea's latest initiatives will provide a bright future. "It's very easy to think of the past," he said. "But we've got to look forward."

Fighters set to square up for title bid

LUKE Paddock and Anthony Upton will go toe-to-toe for the vacant English Super-Lightweight title next month.

The 24-year-olds will square off on Hatton Promotions' and Black Country Boxing's 'Danger Zone' event at The Chase Leisure Centre, Cannock on Sunday, July 24. This will be Upton's second crack at the English crown after suffering a points loss in Walsall against Joe Hughes last year. Paddock has held the Midlands Area equivalent and both have tasted defeat just once in their careers (12-1 Upton, 14-1 Paddock).

"Anto proved to everyone that he's a fighter who belongs in championship class and I believe he'll grab that title with both hands this time around," explained Upton's trainer, Ricky Hatton.

"Some fighters let their head drop after their first loss. Anto didn't. He begged me to get him another opportunity. Paddock's obviously no pushover and has experience in title fights himself so I know we have to get Anto firing on all cylinders in training."

"This is a big fight for me," added Paddock. "Anthony is a good fighter. He likes to use his skills, as do I, so I think it will be a really good, technical fight."

The winner will have to make a first defence against Joe Hughes, who has been given the mandatory position for the crown due to him being forced to relinquish in the aftermath of his WBO Intercontinental title defeat to Jack Catterall.

Fellow Ricky Hatton trained fighters, Wednesbury welterweight, Sam Evans, and Market Harborough super welterweight, Reuben Arrowsmith, also feature. The show takes place at Chase Leisure Centre, Stafford Road, Cannock, Staffordshire, WS11 4AL. Tickets, priced at £30 and £60 Ringside, are available by calling 01543 504 065.

Pitmen supporters have opportunity to meet new manager

HEDNESFORD TOWN supporters have the opportunity to meet new boss Liam McDonald ahead of the new season.

The Meet the Manager event will be held at Keys Park today (Thursday), starting at 7.30pm.

McDonald recently took charge of the Pitmen after a successful couple of seasons at Redditch United and, aged 31, is the youngest manager to be appointed by the club.

He will oversee matters as the club compete in the Evo-Stik Premier next term, along with the likes of Stafford Rangers, Stourbridge, Halesowen Town and Rushall Olympic, following relegation from the National League North.

McDonald has already brought in a number of players, including several from his former club, and is soon expected to gather his new-look squad for pre-season training and fixtures.

The meeting gives fans the chance to speak to him about his plans for the 2016-17 campaign, as well as finding out more about other changes at the club and investments in the facilities at Keys Park.

Pheobe has her sights set on Olympics

Pheobe Taylor from Rawnsley

A TEENAGE shooter from Rawnsley is targeting the Olympics after winning the British Junior Women's Championship at the age of 16.

Pheobe Taylor was crowned Prone Rifle champion 18 months into her shooting career.

It's the latest success in a remarkable rise that has included being named in the Great Britain junior squad three months after she picked up a gun and has left her the youngest person in the country shooting in the elite X class.

By Matt Wilson

"She was really happy, really pleased," said stepfather Martyn Buttery, chairman of Rugeley Rifle Club for two years and club captain for 12 years previously.

"She wants to be an Olympian," said Mr Buttery, a former Commonwealth air rifle champion himself who also works for Eley ammunition.

"She's looking for qualification into the Commonwealth Games in the future and then, after that, moving up to the Olympics."

The Kingsmead School pupil is in the throes of GCSEs but she took time out to travel to the National Shooting Centre in Surrey with her brother Jordan, 21, also a member at Rugeley.

Once there, she shot 578/600 in the 60-shot match over 50 metres against 40 of the best female shooters in the country. The targets are decimalised to give a more accurate reading, which left her with a winning total of 607.9.

BMX BROTHERS IN WORLD SPOTLIGHT

HEDNESFORD speed kings Troy and Kynan Weaver have been busy testing their ability in South America against the best the world has to offer.

The young BMX racers flew to Colombia with parents Natalie and Pete to compete in the World Championships – and added to an already impressive racing CV.

Kynan, aged 11, and Troy, eight, have been riding for three years, and in that time have competed alongside the best that Britain, Europe and the world have to offer. Their BMX action, in which the speedsters hurdle a humped circuit at full-tilt, must qualify them for the fastest pair on two wheels without an engine in Staffordshire.

Troy fell shy of a semi-final place in Medellin in Colombia, while older brother Kynan was unfortunate in failing to get out of the group stage. What began as a hobby in the park for the family a handful of years ago has turned into something more serious, as the pair are also ready to compete in next month's European Championships in Italy.

Proud

The Medellin event was already Troy's third World Championships appearance after racing in Holland and Belgium at the age of six and seven.

The family were out in South America for 10 days, clocking up almost 20 hours in air miles and enjoying the other delights that top-level BMX racing has to offer. But, for proud mother Natalie, the fact that the boys aren't stuck in front of a TV screen is something to admire.

"They liked to be at skate parks and that kind of thing, and Pete Googled it around Christmas time in 2012 and we found out about a local club," she said. "It's been a rollercoaster and much bigger than we'd expected. They've always been active kids."

The pair turn out for Perry Barr-based GET Maxtrax, who also have a track in Dawley, Telford. They ride in the British BMX Series at their age categories. The busy schedule looks set to continue, with more action in London's Peckham at the end of the month followed by the European adventure in Italy.

Troy Weaver, left, and his brother Kynan Weaver competed in the BMX World Championships

Aikido club celebrates royal milestone

BLACK Star Aikido celebrated the Queen's 90th birthday with a Bashing Event at their Organisation's HQ at The Village Hall, Cheslyn Hay.

The weekend seminar focused on the use of strikes upon one's opponent to gain the advantage to apply technique. The younger students particularly enjoyed using the safety equipment and the 90-second rounds of intense pad work.

Senior instructor Shidoi Neil Howie said: "Our younger students trained really hard with the correct respect for their training partner. Martial arts is all about respect and discipline whilst having a fun time."

The club, which takes anyone from the age of 11 upwards, trains on Monday and Friday evenings.

Instructors are regularly invited to teach in the UK, Scotland and throughout Europe where recently Shihan Brown taught in Sweden at the International Martial Arts Seminar.

Skipper is full of praise after victory

MILFORD HALL skipper Chris Milward is upbeat after managing to win on a 'tricky wicket' at Cannock in the Staffs Clubs Championship.

After a disappointing loss to Beacon the previous week, Milford dismissed the home side for 82 in 46.3 overs, with Qamar Abbas and Stuart Phazey leading the way as they took three wickets each.

With the bat, the visitors also struggled but successfully chased their target, ending 83-8 after 38.3 overs, after a fine display from youngster Aaron Afford, who hit 38.

The result meant Milford leap-frogged their opponents into second in the Premier Division, with Milward praising his side for their efficiency with the ball, and the bat, given the difficult wicket.

"We won the toss on a tricky wicket which had been affected by the rain in the week," he said.

"We put them under pressure straight away, picked up a few wickets which was pleasing, and we were really efficient."

"I think it was a very difficult wicket too, so I thought we batted well, both teams struggled but Aaron Afford saw us home."

Beacon maintained top spot with an eight-wicket victory over Wednesbury.

Josh Henry had a good day at the office, with three maidens and four wickets from his 10 overs with the ball as Wednesbury were dismissed for 106 all out.

Beacon sealed the win in the 19th over and are now nine points clear at the top.

Penn were immense with the bat, ending 386-6 after 50 overs against Aldridge, who in reply finished 173 all out.

Swindon moved up to sixth with a hard-fought, 19-run victory over Pelsall.

Hammerwich won by nine wickets at Whittington to move up to eighth.

Bloxwich remain at the foot of the table following defeat at Walsall YPF.

This weekend, Beacon travel to Bloxwich. Milford Hall will hope to close the gap as they host Whittington, while Cannock are at Wednesbury.
